The American Numismatic Association, an educational and nonprofit organization, is the largest and most active numismatic body in the world. It invites and welcomes to membership all worthy persons eleven years of age or over, who have a sincere interest in numismatics, whether they collect coins, paper money, tokens or medals, whether advanced collectors or only those generally interested in the subject without being collectors. The association was founded in 1891, and has about 28,000 members from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. It was chartered for fifty years by Act of Congress May 9, 1912; renewed in perpetuity by Act of Congress April 10, 1962 and is a mutual organization for the benefit of its members.

All Association members, except Associate, receive the official publication, The Numismatist, without cost other than their annual dues. Membership applications should be accompanied by $13.00 to cover admittance fee and the first year's dues. Succeeding annual dues are $8.00. Non-member subscriptions, $10.00 per year. Single copy $1.00. For application blanks or other information, write to Executive Director, P. O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.

The Numismatist is an illustrated monthly which has been issued continuously since its founding in 1888, consists of 160 pages or more in each number with subscribers in about sixty countries. Advertising inquiries should be sent to the Advertising Manager. All other matters for possible publication in or concerning The Numismatist are to be forwarded to the Editor. WHAT IS AN FAO COIN

Five years ago next month, fewer than two hundred 2-page coin albums were presented to world development leaders by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations. Those few pages of coins were the forerunners of ten thousand F.A.O. Coin Albums, grown thus far to nine pages in two volumes.

Since that modest and symbolic beginning in 1968, more than 700,000,000 FAO coins have been minted for authorities representing more than one billion people, or about a third of the population of the earth. Furthermore, other nations are planning FAO coin issues; if their population is added to this total, we find that more than a billion and a half people are represented in this endeavor, or more than 40% of mankind.

In the last two decades it has become increasingly difficult, even for the specialist, to keep track of the newly independent countries of the world, let alone the coins issued in their names. Additionally, most of these newer nations are the very ones whose interest is great in development programs, including especially those for food and agriculture.

How then do we find, out of the hundreds of types of world coins being issued currently, which are those devoted to the FAO Coin Program?

What is an FAO coin?

An FAO coin is one that has been included in the FAO Albums, or is about to be, or is otherwise recognized by the FAO Coin Office in Rome as having been authorized by a government cooperating in the objectives of the FAO Coin Program.

The coin is intended to be primarily educational and to carry the "Food for All" message as widely as possible over the course of a generation or more. Seigniorage from the coin generates revenue locally which can be used for food programs. Sales of the Album and other items create some international funds for FAO development projects.

What does an FAO coin look like?

Remember that the FAO coin functions as any coin, that is, as a medium of exchange or a measure of value. As such the FAO coin is issued as a circulating or commemorative coin as part of a given nation's policy. This results in a wide variety of sizes, shapes, valuations, and of course, designs.

An FAO coin may include:

-  the letters "FAO" or
-  a slogan such as "Grow More food" or
-  symbols of food or agriculture, or
-  any combination of these three kinds of identification.

Included below is a table which lists more than 150 present or proposed FAO coins, together with some indications as to their characteristics. The last three columns in the table provide the designations for each coin as to the design combinations noted above.

Of course the use of a slogan or an agricultural motif does not alone identify an FAO coin. Any number of pieces with such designs bear no relation to FAO; indeed most antedate the FAO program. (The wheat ears on our original Lincoln cent provide an obvious example.) The use of the letters "FAO" would seem to provide the least questionable identification for entries in the FAO Coin Plan. And yet there are already six coin types in existence, bearing the initials, that are NOT considered genuine. These include five gold coins bearing the name of Lesotho, and a silver pseudo-coin of Ajman. See footnotes (a) and (f) following the table below.

Inclusion in the Albums provides the final imprimatur for an FAO coin. But the Albums do not delineate the broader aspects of the Coin Program. Much as the entire field of world coins, so the FAO group exhibits a number of facets:

-  individual coins
-  coin sets
-  proofs
-  proof sets
-  fleur de coin sets
-  patterns
-  philatelic-numismatic covers

These aspects, differing from country to country, are also detailed in the table which follows.

Outlining some of these characteristics is not to understate the importance of the FAO Albums themselves, or the worthiness of the programs to which the proceeds accrue from continued sales thereof. But it does reveal a variety of factors open to the collector's consideration and may give him ideas as to different possible ways of approaching FAO coins.

Additionally FAO coins can provide the collector with a kind of window-on-the-world, as a way into discovering leads to other specialties. For example, lets us consider that since most of those nations already in the Program are developing countries, many are located in Africa and in Asia; and that collecting FAO coins could lead to specializing in those from one or another continent; or in first issues by newly independent nations; or in coins commemorating anniversaries of independence.

There is a major reason for considering FAO coins not only as a collection in itself, but as a stepping-stone to other interests in world coins. FAO COINS ARE EXCEEDINGLY WELL DOCUMENTED. All kinds of regular and special information is available on each and every coin. Data have been painstakingly and systematically gathered by the FAO Coin Office from the various Central Banks and Ministries of Finance and Mints from around the world, with whom FAO has dealt from the beginnings of the Coin Plan.

Are FAO coins readily available?

Most individual FAO coins are offered for sale by dealers in current world coins. Many are also available through the mints or ministries of finance in the countries of origin. Some are also available as sets or parts of sets. Again, the table below can be of some help in indicating which coins are (or were) available separately.

Insofar as the original FAO Albums are concerned, the first few pages have long since been sold out. FAO is attempting to locate some of the original recipients, particularly of pages 1 and 2, who would be willing to release the pages to FAO for issue to other collectors. Various other pages are still available from FAO in Rome, including the ongoing pages in Album 2.

Many of the coins included in Album 1 of the FAO collection have also been mounted in panels and are arranged for framing and display. These panels provide a way for late starters to obtain a representative collection of the original FAO coins.

Detailed information on these albums and panels is available from the FAO Coin Office in Rome.

It should be noted that FAO has also participated in the preparation of a number of medals and tokens related to FAO programs or commemorating various anniversaries. Information on these items is also available.

What is FAO?

Related to the United Nations are fourteen autonomous inter-governmental agencies, a few of which are:

- World Health Organization (WHO)

- International Monetary Fund (IMF)

- United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO)

One of this family group is FAO, the Food and Agriculture Organization.

Its fundamental purposes include:

-  raising nutritional levels and standards of living,

-  improving the production and distribution of food, and

-  bettering the condition of rural populations.

FAO provides an information service, promotes action toward improving marketing, processing and credit policies, and furnishes technical assistance.

The FAO Coin Plan was initiated to help support these efforts, and to call our attention to the need for providing "Food for All."

FAO COINS — PRESENT & PROPOSED

Key to Table:

NO. The numbers 1-153 have no significance beyond this publication of the table, other than to provide sequence herein.

COUNTRY Identifies the country or monetary authority concerned.

DENOMINATION Identifies each FAO coin.

VERSION Identifies special variation of a coin, such as proof or pattern.

BULLETIN The FAO Coin Office has published over the years various informative leaflets. These are identified in this column as the INITIAL source of information on each coin; in most cases, subsequent leaflets also contain data, but are not listed here. The identification is by letter, as indicated below, and by the number of each bulletin:

- b - Bulletin (for Central Banks, Ministries of Finance, etc.)
- c - Collectors notes
- d - Distributors information
- n - for Numismatic writers
- i - new Issues

DATE The date of the leaflet mentioned above.

ISSUED The date of issue for each coin. If different from date on coin, date of issue is in parentheses.

PLAN PROP An "x" in this column indicates that the coin in question is under consideration, being planned, or has been proposed, or that its release is pending.

AVAILABLE Entries in the appropriate column of an "i," "s," or "c" indicate that the coin is OR WAS available either individually, or as part of a set, or in a Philatelic-Numismatic Cover.
An "x" indicates that the item has been received by the author.

ALBUM The entries in this column indicate the album number (1 or 2) and the appropriate page in which the coin is inserted.

PANEL Indicates whether the coin is in Panel 1 or 2.

FAO SLO SYM "x" indicates whether the letters "FAO" or a slogan or agricultural symbols have been used on the coin.

- (a) An Ajman 5-Rial piece, although dated 1970, was not released until 1972 and is not authorized for circulation by the United Arab Emirates. The latter is the political authority of which Ajman has been a part since December, 1971.
- (b) The published total minted quantity of the Bolivian 1-peso FAO coin is 25,000. Since 20,000 were reserved for FAO offices to include in Albums and Panels, the remaining 5,000 are theoretically available. The author has seen none advertised, and various inquiries have produced no conclusive information. The FAO Coin Office does not know the whereabouts of the extra 5,000 pieces.
- (c) Production of the Egyptian 10-piastre coin is quoted at about 500,000. The author has seen none of these advertised separately. Inquiries as to its availability have not yet been conclusive.
- (d) Two Philatelic-Numismatic Covers have been produced containing the Guyana 1970 Dollar. Both bear stamps picturing that coin. The stamps on one cover are for 5-cent and 25-cent denominations; a 20-cent and 50-cent stamp are on the other.
- (e) The dates on the Iranian 1-rial pieces are equivalent to Gregorian A.D. dates as follows:
1971 - 1350
1972 - 1351
1973 - 1352
- (f) The so-called five FAO coins of Lesotho are not considered genuine coinage, because they are high-valued gold items issued through commercial agencies, despite the non-existence of a national coinage system. (n 11, 2/73)

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

VIRGINIA CULVER

The International Numismatic Congress, which started back in 1891, the same year as our American Numismatic Association met for the first time in the United States. It was my pleasure to attend the Congress and represent our association. Delegates from 33 different countries were assembled for a week beginning in New York City and moving via Baltimore to our nation's capitol, Washington, D.C. During this week numismatic papers were read by almost 100 scholars of our hobby, encompassing almost every possible segment, and other papers were listed by titles because time did not allow their reading. Museums prepared special displays for the Congress and lovely receptions were held in honor of the delegates. Sometimes a language barrier existed during the reading of the papers, but the common bond of numismatics knew no barrier during this week of fellowship and friendship. Chairman Margaret Thompson together with the staffs of the American Numismatic Society and the Smithsonian Institution deserve the very highest praise for the tremendous task of planning and executing the first International Numismatic Congress held in our country.

The International Association of Professional Numismatists met in Washington, D.C., as the International Numismatic Congress closed. Their meetings concentrated on the need to control counterfeiting and the associated ills of our hobby. Charles Hoskins, our ANACS director, presented the aims and operations of our service which is located in Washington, D.C. to the IAPN members. Abe Kosoff related the beginnings of ANACS and Eric P. Newman presented more information. The outcome of this presentation was a motion to cement relations between IAPN, ANACS and other teams fighting counterfeiting for better cooperation, communication, and education. All numismatic groups are invited to participate in this international fight to rid our hobby of all types of falsification.

Special thanks and appreciation are extended at this time to two former members of our headquarters staff — Richard A. Long, first ANA Museum director, and Thomas A. Marshall, editor. We wish them well in their new endeavors and we are grateful for their help and support to our association during their tenure in Colorado Springs. ANA Governor Glenn Smedley, formerly our editor, is helping to bridge the gap in the loss of Long and Marshall until new personnel can be chosen. Glenn's love and devotion to the ANA knows no bounds.

The Executive Director's Newsletter to governors has been re-instated after a lapse of several years as a means of better communications between our headquarters and our elected officers. We can all work better as a team when we are aware of what is going on. By this means our executive director, Edward Rochette, can keep your board informed as well as make important recommendations for the betterment of the association.

The Great Eastern Numismatic Association at its yearly convention held the latter part of September honored Joseph M. Segel, as its Man of the Year. I was happy to be able to add congratulations in person on behalf of the American Numismatic Association for this well-deserved honor to a man who has been most generous to organized numismatics and to the ANA in particular.

Ms. Margaret Thompson, American Numismatic Society chief curator, and chair-lady for the Organization Committee, I., greets ANA President Virginia Culver, at the recent International Numismatic Congress.

THE COINAGE ACT OF 1873 AND THE DEMONETIZATION OF SILVER

by

David L. Ganz, LM 1072

ONE CENTURY AGO this year, the Congress of the United States passed the most fundamental piece of coinage legislation that it had considered since the founding of a national mint in Philadelphia eighty-one years before. The congressional action would ultimately affect virtually every aspect of American life, create a furor that would eventually envelop national politics for the next quarter century, and revise and amend the coinage laws of the United States. Of all these products, it is fair to surmise that the only intended result of what would one day be called The Coinage Act of 1873 was the revision and amendment of the mint laws.

The strange saga of The Coinage Act of 1873 had its official origins in January 1870, when President Grant's Secretary of the Treasury, George S. Boutwell, requested that Deputy Comptroller of the Currency John Jay Knox prepare the draft of a bill to revise "the laws relative to the Mint, assay offices, and coinage of the United States."¹ A bill to codify the existing coinage legislation was badly needed, for up to that time, mint operations and monetary policy were based on piecemeal legislative actions over the years. Nowhere, in concise form was there a compendium of laws on the coinage. Still authorized for issue, although no longer struck, were the old copper large cents. Other problems included new mint personnel, branch mint facilities, and other growth items that had been added on haphazardly to the regulations governing the institution since 1792.

In order to permanently codify what amounted to virtually all of the coinage and monetary legislations passed by the Congress since the founding of the Mint, Deputy Comptroller Knox found that he had to write a draft bill with fifty-five sections. In early April, 1870, Treasury Secretary Boutwell sent the draft to the Congress.²

The Congress was busy in April 1870. On April 13, Congressman William D. Kelley of Philadelphia, the influential chairman of the Standing Committee on Coinage, Weights, and Measures, was fighting a losing battle in favor of the introduction of an international coinage in the United States. "The coinage of the United States can be brought into exact conformity with metrical weights by a change in its value amounting to less than one-third of one percent in the case of gold coins,"³ he declared. "Under this act," he told the House of Representatives, "all coins of gold and silver should be nine-tenths fine. The silver dollar . . . would be legal tender in payments not above ten dollars, and would be exactly equal to the French five-franc piece . . ."⁴

American contrariness to adopting the currency specifications of another nation, the principal cause of non-entry into the Latin Monetary Union in 1865, was again readily apparent as Kelley's bill advanced no further than his speech. The Latin Union was left to its own designs, as was the rising state of Germany and Czarist Russia.

On April 28, 1870, Senator John A. Sherman of Ohio introduced the Treasury draft legislation for the coinage revision as Senate Bill number 859.⁵ Little controversy was apparently evoked by the Treasury proposal, but the ire of some western senators who represented mining constituencies was raised by Sherman's proposed amendment to the draft that called for an end to free coinage and the institution of a small charge by the Mint for striking gold and silver coins from deposited bullion.⁶

The concern over the proposed amendment that would end free coinage of gold and silver centered on the auric bullion rather than the argentic substance. In 1870, it was simply not profitable to turn silver bullion into coin. The

Comstock Lode production had yet to flood the market, Indian Wars prevented massive extraction of silver bullion and its shipment East, and the price of bullion remained at such a level that it cost $1.03 in silver to make one silver dollar. In an era before income tax bred the use of tax shelters, it was simply too unprofitable to turn silver bullion into silver dollar coinage.⁷

When gold was discovered in California at Sutter's Mill in 1848, the forthcoming gold rush dug out more gold than the world had ever conceived possible to mine. From a production of just 48,762 ounces in 1845, production rose in 1849 to 1,935,000 ounces.⁸ Each year thereafter until 1854, the product increased. But even after 1854, more than $55 million in gold was being extracted annually, a far sight from the mere pittance of $889,085 extracted in 1847.⁹ Gold began to flood the market, and the price of silver, as the only alternative money to gold, began to rise.¹⁰ Silver production was still in its infancy, for in 1859 just 77,300 ounces were mined,¹¹ and this relative scarcity contributed to its monetary strength.

⁴*Ibid.*, at 282. Baron Nothomb, quoting Mr. Kelley on his bill introduced in the House of Representatives on July 21, 1868, for the purpose of making the United States coinage common with that of Europe. [Translation again supplied by New York Evening Post.] The Latin Union, a formal monetary alliance of France, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland and Greece, had common coinage denominations that were valued identically in gold and silver content, but with each nation striking its own coinage. Coins of the Union countries were struck in denominational equivalents of 100, 50, 20, 10 and 5 francs in gold, and in 5, 2, and 1 francs, 50 and 20 centimes in silver. For a concise history of the Latin Union, including relevant treaty provisions, see Annual Report of the Director of the Mint for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900 at 497-505 (1900). Under Rep. Kelley's proposal, the $20 gold piece of the United States would have been made the equivalent of 100 francs, £4 (England), 3 German Union crowns, 5 Russian half imperials, or in terms of fine gold, 30 grams. At the time, the double eagle contained 30.0932 grams of fine gold. Globe, 41st Cong., 2d session, "Appendix," at 282 (April 14th, 1870). The Russian half imperial in quantities of five would equal exactly 30 grams, as would three German union crowns. The pound sterling in L4 denomination weighed 29.29 grams, and the French 100 franc weighed 29.032258 grams. Ibid., Kelley's proposal would have made Germany the major denominator, causing change within the Latin Union.

At any price above $1.2929 per ounce, the amount of silver in a dollar was worth more than one dollar. In the forty years between 1833 and 1873, the price of silver never declined below $1.297 per ounce, slightly above the parity level of the dollar with silver. Ibid., at 104. In 1870, when the Treasury made its proposal, the price of silver averaged $1.328 per ounce. It remained at similar levels throughout 1871 and 1872. Ibid.

But still, because it took more than a dollar's worth of silver to make a silver dollar under government specifications, few were coined by the mint.¹²

The discovery of the Comstock Lode in Nevada in 1859, and its exploitation a decade later, was perhaps the single factor that ultimately undermined the strength of silver. It was apparent to many people, including Dr. Henry Linderman of the mint, that silver could be potentially produced in far greater quantities than the previously inconceivable gold extraction. As time was to prove, he was right,¹³ and from 1867 until the coinage legislation was actually law, the mint official set out to demonetize silver before a market oversupply would cheapen the price and allow unlimited free coinage of silver that, at prices where it was profitable to do so, would create high-powered inflationary currency.¹⁴ The coinage legislation that was being prepared by the Treasury in January 1870 afforded Linderman the opportunity he had waited for, and the mint official's influence may be seen throughout the draft legislation, and indeed, in the final bill.¹⁵

Abroad, there were soon other events which would figure prominently in the final decisions to be made by the Congress. In 1871, partly as a result of massive worldwide silver production, Germany demonetized silver and recalled all circulating silver coinage. In order to procure enough gold to re-issue coinage, Germany sold "large amounts of silver from her store of melted silver coin."¹⁶ The following year, the Scandinavian Monetary Union was founded, and Norway, Sweden and Denmark adopted a gold standard while demonetizing silver except for the purposes of making small change.¹⁷

In January, 1871, the coinage legislation had its first test when the Senate

¹³See, The Congressional Record, 61st Cong., 2d session, p. 3965 (March 29, 1910) for evidence. Silver production rose from 77,300 ounces yearly in 1859 to 10,441,400 oz. in 1867, to 22,236,000 oz. in 1872, up to 35,022,000 oz. in 1877. Later, the figure went still higher. Ibid.

¹⁴As evidence, see Weinstein, Prelude to Populism at 12-18 (1970).

¹⁵For example, in a letter to Deputy Comptroller Knox, who drafted the bill, Linderman wrote on January 25, 1870 that "the gold dollar is really the legal unit and measure of value...the silver dollar long ago ceased to be a coin of circulation; and being of no practical use whatever, its issue should be discontinued." Quoted in Weinstein, cited supra, at p. 16. Also see, Annual Report of the Director of the Mint for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1867 at 9-10, 17 (1867) where Linderman advocated a gold standard and endorsed demonetization of the silver dollar.

voted on what amounted to the administration's draft. The controversy continued to center on Senator Sherman's amendment that would have authorized minting charges in place of free coinage. After intense debate, the Sherman amendment was defeated, and on January 10, 1871, the Senate passed its version of the bill.¹⁸

It was not until March 9, 1871 that Rep. Kelley finally introduced the coinage legislation in the House of Representatives. The bill was referred to the Standing Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, of which Kelley was chairman. The man who had advocated the conversion of United States monies into a European standard just a year earlier was temporarily in charge of the legislation designed to permanently codify all U.S. coinage legislation.

Ten months after the coinage legislation was introduced, Kelley, by unanimous consent of the House of Representatives, submitted a resolution which was read and adopted by the House:

Resolved. That the Committee on Coinage...be instructed to inquire and report whether the intrinsic value of silver coinage, as compared with gold coinage, is not above that of other nations, and greater than is necessary in coins designed for subsidiary purposes only, and be retained permanently in that country; also, whether it should not be proper to extract seigniorage from the silver coinage...¹⁹

The following day, January 9, 1872, Kelley took to the House floor to explain the purpose of the bill. This bill "is not a pet measure of my own," he declared. "It is a measure originated by the Treasury Department, and growing out of the necessities of the case. The mint law of this country [Act of April 2, 1792] has never been revised...We were not then a bullion-producing people, while we are today the greatest producers of gold and silver in the world...The Secretary of the Treasury, discovering the difficulty in administering the affairs of so many mints and assay offices, gave the subject his personal consideration, and then invited...one of the officers of the Treasury . . . to codify the mint laws . . ."²⁰

There was a good deal of debate on the issue of what devices were going to be included in any new coinage designs. Clarkson N. Potter, of New Rochelle, New York asked Mr. Kelley if the proposed bill "provide[s] for coins of new impression, or with different forms or devices."²¹ Kelley responded that "it provides for the coining of one, three, and five cent pieces, [and] it extinguishes the devices of the old copper cent..."²² To many other questions, Kelley reiterated that "This bill is a mere codification."²³

Other debate centered on the content of the new subsidiary silver coinage. Mr. Potter spoke out against the debasement of our silver coinage "in order to retain small silver in circulation."²⁴ James A. Garfield, then a Representative from Ohio, also spoke out, saying that "I hope the time will come when we will not have tokens but real money; neither tokens in metal nor tokens in paper, unless they represent their full value."²⁵ Garfield also proposed that the Superintendent of the Mint have his salary reduced from $4,500 to $3,500 per year.²⁶ With all of these additional comments and proposed changes, the bill could not be passed, and on January 10, 1872, H.R. 5 was recommitted.

Still, the issue of demonetization of silver had not been seriously discussed. Although later, Garfield, Speaker of the House James G. Blaine, and other candidates for the Presidency would claim that they had been duped into demonetizing silver by unscrupulous speculators and legislators who passed the bill clandestinely, nothing could be further from the truth.

The "clandestine" legislation was, in fact, printed by order of Congress no less than thirteen times, considered by Committees of both Houses during five different sessions of Congress, and debated in some of the most spirited oratory of the period that fill up over 144 columns of the Congressional Globe.²⁷

It can now be reasonably proven that the real reason that silver was demonetized in 1873 was the persistent efforts of Dr. Linderman and the Treasury Department. Congress simply was not interested, in 1871, 1872 and 1873, whether silver was legal tender or demonetized, for as noted economists Milton Friedman and Anna Jacobson Schwartz were to write years later in their massive Monetary History of the United States, "Because the market price of silver had been higher than the mint price, the silver dollar had not been in circulation since 1836, and was an unknown coin to Americans. In 1873, it seems to have been generally accepted that the demonetization of standard silver dollars simply gave legal recognition to that fact, and silver spokesmen in Congress did not oppose the legislation."²⁸

Almost up to the time that the bill was enrolled on February 12, 1873, the price of silver remained above $1.2929 per ounce, the price at which the bullion content required to make a silver dollar coin was valued at one dollar.²⁹

On December 16, 1872, the Globe reported that the bill "to revise and amend the laws relative to coinage . . . [was] agreed to in substance by both Houses, except that the Senate has voted higher salaries for the officials of the mint than the House."³⁰ On January 3, 1873, the Senate moved to reprint the bill with amendments.³¹ The final discussion was already at hand.

It was here, truly, that Dr. Linderman's genius was tested. If silver was to be demonetized, what was to become of the vast quantities of silver bullion

The proposed five year tenure, and $5,000 per year salary, made the office a political plum, but the five year term was intended primarily to remove it from the "spoils" system. This, of course, was in an era before civil service reform.

that had not yet been extracted from the Comstock Lode and other rich strikes? As the New York Times was to write in retrospect, "for the purpose of finding a market for the increasing production of silver in the United States, provision was made for the coinage of a trade dollar especially designed for the China market."³²

A trade dollar, and thus a future for American mined silver, was assured on February 6, 1873 when a joint conference committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives met to hammer out final differences. In the end, the House members agreed to the Senate amendment which provided:

that any owner of silver bullion may deposit the same at any mint to be formed into bars or into dollars of the weight of 420 grains troy, designated in this act as trade dollars, and no deposit of silver for other coinage shall be considered...³³

Free coinage of subsidiary silver was at an end. The standard silver dollar was no more, although it was to return within five years. A trade dollar, designed to circulate in the Orient, was the heir designate. Linderman and the Treasury had been successful. The bill was enrolled before the dramatic decline in the price of silver began. When, in 1875, silver producers saw silver averaging $1.246 per ounce, although they may have been tempted to convert their bullion into silver coinage, they were unable to. The Coinage Act of 1873 foresaw the lure of "cheap" money and took the necessary steps to deny it. Now, in an attempt to bring "inflated" money to the common man, silver would enter national politics. The so-called "Crime of '73" would be brandished in every Presidential election until the turn of the century. William Jennings Bryan would orate about his refusal to let mankind crucify itself upon a cross of gold, but he would lose the Presidential election of 1896. With his defeat would go the silver issue itself, for in early 1900, President McKinley proclaimed that this country was on a gold standard, something tacitly acknowledged 27 years before.

The Coinage Act of 1873 is a unique blend of numismatics and history and the political economy. It fundamentally changed the state of American coinage, but also fundamentally changed the politics of this nation. Surely, it did more than codify our coinage laws, but it did something less than clandestinely rob the common man of easy money.

Let us value, then, the Coinage Act of 1873 not for what we are unsure of, but rather, for what it was: the act that demonetized silver.

BOSTON TEA PARTY DUMPS RECORDS

Boston, Massachusetts - The 82nd Anniversary Convention of the American Numismatic Association, hosted by the Boston Numismatic Society and the Collectors Club of Boston, shattered all existing records of prior ANA conventions.

Not only was the new attendance figure of 13,926 set, but the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, headquarters for the convention, was 100 per cent occupied by eager numismatists at least two days before the official opening of the convention. Within 45 minutes of the official ribbon cutting ceremony over 3,000 collectors had jammed the bourse area in the adjoining John B. Hynes Memorial Auditorium, eager to do business with the 177 bourse tables or view the 125 competitive exhibits. All records in themselves.

Thursday, August 23

Official convention opening ceremonies were held at 12:00 noon with Daniel C. Murphy, general chairman of the Sheraton-Boston Hotel, as the official ribbon cutter. As soon as the ribbon, made from Boston tea party commemorative stamps, was cut, the huge flow of collectors, dealers, speculators and spectators flowed into the auditorium site for the bourse and exhibits. This flow was to continue through Monday of the following week.

At 4:00 p.m. the official election results were announced in the Grand Ball Room of the Sheraton-Boston Hotel. Mrs. Virginia Culver defeated Grover C. Criswell by a margin of 755 votes, Mrs. Culver, receiving 6,677 to Criswell's 5,992. Elected vice president for the next two years was George D. Hatie who ran unopposed for that office.

Again, another record, 14,203 members cast ballots in the election. Others elected to serve on the board of governors were: Miss Eva B. Adams, 9,609;

John Jay Pittman, 9,433; Maurice M. Gould, 8,213; Glenn B. Smedley, 7,578; Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, Jr., 6,784; Adna G. Wilde, Jr., 6,101; and Elridge G. Jones, 5,726. Election results were read to members assembled in the Grand Ball Room by Edward C. Rochette, executive director, at the request of the outgoing president, John Jay Pittman.

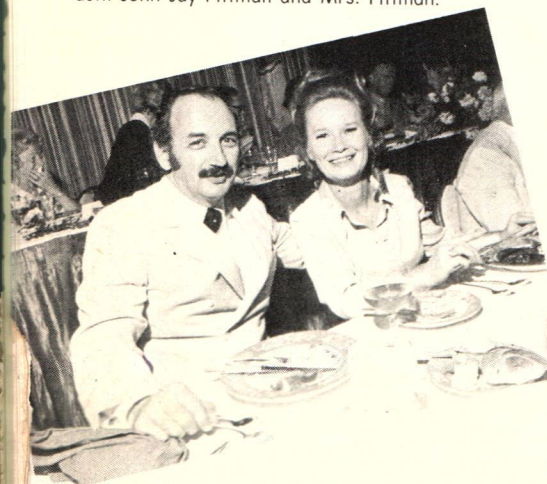

The Numismatic Literary Guild held its annual "bash" in the evening with numerous awards being made, some in a serious vein for literary achievements and others of a frivolous nature to add spice to the jovial group.

A number of tangent groups held board or luncheon meetings, including the Token and Medal Society, the Elongated Collectors Club, the International Bank Note Society, the Society Historica Numorum, the Central States Numismatic Society, Love Token Society, the Old Time Assay Commissioners Society, the Early American Coppers and the Numismatics International meetings being late in the evening.

With the record number of tangent groups meeting, it was impossible for any registrant to cover all events. In addition, an ANA general meeting was held at 11:00 a.m. in the Grand Ball Room and the Young Numismatists enjoyed a five-hour tour of the Museum of Fine Arts, and a luncheon.

This year, for the first time, the Hospitality Room, under the direction of Mrs. Grace Clapp and Mrs. Nancy Fitts, was hosted by a different group on each day. Today's host was Numismatics International and the International Bank Note Society.

There were again a number of tangent groups meeting, including the Token and Medal Society, Society of Paper Money Collectors, International Bank Note Society, Society of Ration Token Collectors, Check Collectors Round Table, Framingham Coin Club, Civil War Token Collectors Society, and the International Order of Wooden Money Collectors.

There were two highlights of the day — first the Ladies Luncheon where the distaff side was treated to a Boston broiled scrod dinner at Joseph's Aquarium Restaurant. Sunday, August 26

Today began the first Sunday attendance at an ANA convention in recent times. First order of business was the Club Representatives Breakfast with 176 in attendance - another record.

Two events vied for the highlight of the day. First was the ANA Awards Meeting which saw the following receive prizes for exhibits at the convention.

The coveted Medals of Merit were presented at this meeting also, and the ladies were in the majority of recipients. Geneva Karlson was recognized for her work in the ANA library since it opened in Colorado Springs in 1967 and for the completion of the ANA library catalog.

Evie Kelley was recognized for more than a decade of work without remuneration, and sometimes sans thanks, in maintaining communications desks at ANA conventions.

Charles M. Johnson, a former member of the board of governors, was recognized for his chairmanship of the Gifts and Bequests Committee and the Home and Headquarters Committee which resulted in successful fund raising and completion of the ANA headquarters in Colorado Springs.

The fun highlight of the day was a clam bake and harbor cruise. Over 350 ANA conventioners purchased tickets for this event, necessitating the chartering of three boats to take them to George's Island in Boston Harbor for a real old fashioned New England Clam Bake. Never before in ANA history have so many turned up for any such tour.

Monday, August 27

Today was the final day of the convention, the first time in recent years that ANA has closed a conclave on a Monday. The retention factor that worried many ANA officials never materialized and over 800 attended the closing banquet - the ANA's Boston Tea Party. Again, another record.

In closing ceremonies, mastered by Abe Kosoff, three fifty-year gold medals were presented, only one in absentia. Present to receive their half-century continuous membership recognition were Ambrose J. Brown and Alphonse A. Kolb.

The highest award presented annually for outstanding and distinguished service to the American Numismatic Association and to numismatics, the Farran-Zerbe Memorial Award, was presented to Matt H. Rothert, a former ANA president who lists among his memorable accomplishments the placing of our national motto, In God We Trust, upon United States currency.

The outstanding sculptor of the year award was presented to noted sculptress Gertrude Lathrop of Falls Village, Conn. Miss Lathrop has many medals to her credit, probably the most outstanding being those depicting animals. Many collectors know of her two commemorative half dollars: the 1936 Albany, depicting a beaver, and the 1938 New Rochelle showing John Pell and the "one fatte calfe." Her 1938 medal "Conserve Wild Life" for the Society of Medalists captured animals in a masterful manner.

The Howland Wood Memorial Award, the highest award presented annually for the "Best in Show" competitive exhibit, went to Ray Byrne who already placed first in Class 11 (Latin America).

A book could be written about the events of the 82nd Anniversary Convention in Boston. The book probably will never be written but more will follow in succeeding issues of The Numismatist although space in this edition dictated only a brief summary of a most memorable event.

CENTURY OLD NOTES

The nickel mine, from which comes all the metal used for our smaller coins, is situated in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. It has been worked seventeen years, and is two hundred feet deep. The nickel lode is 3,000 feet long, produces 600 tons per month, and 175 men are now employed at the mine. American Journal of Numismatics, July 1873.

Board Notes From Boston. . .

In accordance with provisions of the American Numismatic Association bylaws and tradition, the Board of Governors held several-session meetings at the Boston convention. President John Jay Pittman presided over the sessions of the 1971-73 board, with the vice president, seven governors, executive director, treasurer and legal counsel present.

The meetings were harmonious, yet uninhibited and free discussion was had on all matters considered. Much of the preliminary work of the board is done by specialized committees, but committee recommendations are considered carefully by the whole board before being approved or modified — in other words, the “rubber stamp” technique is not practiced.

The following report of the Boston convention board meetings is intended to inform members of official actions taken. No attempt is made to give all the factors considered or pros and cons relating to the board's decisions, nor are purely routine matters reported. It would be sort of stale news, for example, to report that a ban was imposed on the use of alcoholic beverages and on gambling in the bourse and exhibit areas. Few members would be interested in certain detailed arrangements for handling relatively minor expenditures by future convention committees.

As usual, considerable time was spent on the report of the complaints committee (Governor Eva Adams, chairman). About two dozen complaints against applicants for membership and active members, and requests for reinstatement of previously suspended or expelled members, were deliberated in accordance with applicable provisions of the bylaws. Actions taken are recorded at the end of the Membership Report in this issue.

The temporary fee of $500 for club life membership was extended to the end of the present calendar year, after which the previously approved fee of $1000 will apply. Several years ago a credit of $1.00 was voted to member clubs that submitted an application for regular or life ANA membership. After having been on a trial basis, the board voted to make it a permanent feature of the membership program. To be eligible for the $1.00 credit, applications must be signed by the club's ANA representative, its secretary or other officer.

Regarding the Young Numismatists Correspondence course (available to individuals at from $4.00 to $15.00), the board approved making multi-sets of the course available to ANA sponsoring members of junior clubs at the minimum $4.00 rate. However, in such cases, the association will not administer the courses or issue completion certificates.

The board approved the use of either A Guide to the Grading of United States Coins by Brown and Dunn or Photo-grade by Ruddy as acceptable standards for determining the conditions of U. S. coins.

The auction privilege for the 1974 convention in Bal Harbour, Florida, was awarded to Paramount International Coin Corp. of Englewood, Ohio, based on mutually agreeable terms and conditions. Regarding dealer activities at future conventions, the board banned the distribution of literature of a commercial nature in the general areas under control of ANA, but not including the designated area of a distributor.

Upon the recommendation of the executive director, based on his inspection of facilities and preliminary negotiations with the management, the Los Angeles Marriott Hotel was selected as the site of the 1975 convention. Cancellation of plans by the Century Plaza Hotel in Los Angeles to construct an additional tower necessitated the change in hotel sites. This convention is scheduled to start on Tuesday, August 19, and close with the banquet on Sunday. Edwin C. Borgolte was named general chairman, Val Mogensen to be assistant chairman. Upon the same basis, the Americana Hotel was selected as the site for the 1976 convention in New York City.

Mrs. Leonor K. Sullivan, Congresswoman from Missouri, was voted an Honorary Membership in ANA in recognition of her interest in numismatics and help in securing legislation favorable to the hobby and the association. Mrs. Sullivan will be remembered by many for her fine address at opening business meeting of the 1970 convention in St. Louis.

Appreciation was expressed to Ed Rochette, especially, and to all who have worked with him in organizing and developing the annual Summer Seminar at Colorado College, adjacent to ANA headquarters. The fifth one was held in July and, as in each past year, drew new record participation. Approval was given to hold the 1974 Summer Seminar as in past years. The tentative dates are July 7-13, with this and other details to be worked out by the executive director in concert with Colorado College officials.

Several recommendations made by our accounting firm, in an Accounting Manual submitted with its annual audit, were approved and are to be implemented by the headquarters staff. In addition to accounting practices, these recommendations had reference to certain inventories and records of property. The transition from a fiscal year ending June 30 to one ending May 31 has been accomplished and the problems created thereby are behind us.

Museum Director Richard Long having submitted his resignation prior to convention time, to be effective September 30, the board unanimously expressed its appreciation to him for his fine work in our museum during the past two years. Many of his friends will be glad to know that he is returning to the coin business, remaining in Colorado Springs.

One of the first actions at the August 27 meeting of the newly elected board was the announcement by President Virginia Culver that a new committee, headed by Vice President George Hatie, will study the matter of election ethics and procedures and report its recommendations to the board at a future meeting. The need for new rules and procedures became evident during the recent election, particularly as a result of the questionable nominations of candidates received (see The Numismatist, July issue).

Another special committee, composed of Vice President Hatie and Governors Eva Adams and Kenneth Hallenbeck, will formulate recommendations to the board on standards of granting awards, handling of complaints and other general board procedures.

Appointive officers for the past year were reapointed for 1973-74, namely: Edward C. Rochette, executive director; Thomas A. Marshall, editor; Mrs. Geneva Karlson, librarian; John J. Watson, advertising manager; William C. Henderson, treasurer; Ellis Edlow, legal counsel; N. Neil Harris, historian; John J. Gabarron, sergeant-at-arms; and Charles R. Hoskins, ANACS director.

Shortly after the convention, Editor Marshall resigned, effective September 15. Until a new permanent editor can be selected and appointed, Executive Director Rochette will serve as acting editor, with assistance temporarily from Governor Glenn Smedley, a former editor of The Numismatist.

The makeup of the regular committees for 1973-74 will be ready for publication in the December issue. The names of the chairmen only were published on the President's Page in the October issue.

In an effort to speed up the releasing of reports of board meetings, it was decided to have a qualified stenographer record actions taken at meetings and to use the tape recording as a supplementary record only. In the past, the tapes have been transcribed in headquarters following the completion of meetings, in most instances causing a delay of several days. The preliminary transcript was then circulated to board members and the legal counsel to be checked for accuracy. Only then were official releases made to persons concerned and to the numismatic press.

The principle of holding the customary Professional Numismatist Guild

"day" preceding the annual convention was approved for 1974. While this activity is not a part of the official ANA convention, it is held in cooperation with the convention committee and subject to mutually agreeable conditions.

A balanced budget for the 1973-74 fiscal year was drawn up by the finance committee (Eldridge Jones, chairman) and approved by the board. As in past years, this budget is subject to review and revision at subsequent meetings of the board.

New Exhibits Open At The Old Mint

A rare collection of numismatic items and paintings evoke fresh memories of frontier life and the California gold rush in new exhibits that opened recently at the Old Mint Museum in San Francisco.

The California State Numismatic Association and other numismatic groups assembled the historically significant exhibit of coins, medals, tokens, paper money and related items.

Of unique interest in the numismatic display donated to the Mint Museum by the collectors are: gold coins produced by the U. S. Mint as well as by private companies that struck coins from the gold of the gold rush period; paper notes printed by Emperor Norton I of Mexico and by the United States; commemorative medallions and souvenir pieces issued during the Panama-Pacific Exposition; checks signed by the Comstock discoverers and a wide assortment of other rare numismatic pieces seldom seen on public display.

The paintings, done at the original sites of California's northern mine country, have been donated to the museum by the artist, Beryl Brown Floris, whose family settled on the West Coast years before the discovery of gold in 1848.

Mrs. Floris' great grandmother once traded a vial of gold dust for a jar of pickles in San Francisco. Fond memories of similar tales heard in childhood of her great grandparents' adventures during the gold fever epidemic nurtured a special interest in recapturing on canvas scenes at the mine sites, the early machinery and the settlements that sprouted in the surrounding areas.

Her searching paintings record her wanderings to the hard rock mines in the gold country, to hills named Gopher, Prospect and Piety, to the locale where Black Bart roamed and robbed, to machine shops, meeting halls and mansions and on to the house where a one-time mistress to a king kept her pet grizzly bears.

The Old Mint Museum, 88 Fifth Street, San Francisco, California, is open to the public Tuesdays through Sundays, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. There's no admission charge.

• A member who is the coin columnist for the New York Times phoned for some information just before the Boston convention. We did a little visiting and he mentioned my column, which was flattering to me, of course. Then he asked, "Why don't I ever see a photo of you, only the drawing at the top of the page?"

In case anyone else wonders, that "drawing" IS a photograph, taken about five years ago and doctored up by a professional artist to resemble an engraving. Maybe it's time for a change (anyway, time has changed me) so here's a recent photo without any artistic alteration. Color the hair grey!

• Obituaries, like the no longer living persons they relate to, are cold, and usually inadequate as memorials. Admitting that they are considered to be necessary as advices and records, I still loathe most of them.

This observation was generated by the reading of what I'd call a memorial to the late Ralph J. Menconi in the Spring 1973 issue of National Sculpture Review. It was written by Robert A. Weinman, a man with kindred interests and a close friend of the Menconis. Relating all of the necessary factual information, it was still composed in a personal and living style. A bit of humor, even, was injected by Weinman. Reading it gave me the feeling that I had known Ralph, although such was not the case while he lived and worked.

• "The end justified the means." "Victory at any price." Maybe! A master artist will select the finest pigments, oils and canvas when he wants to create a masterpiece. The great architect does not skimp on the quality of steel, concrete, glass and other materials when planning a great structure. Who'd deny that these are examples of how great and enduring works are achieved? GOOD means.

Yet too often we don't adhere to the same precepts in our personal lives. More and more, it seems to me, we see, hear and read of those who resort to just about any means they believe will ensure reaching, or hasten the realization of, some coveted goal. Maybe the "end" is an elective office, or a high position in one's vocation, or monetary or material gain. BAD means.

An eminent chef uses the finest ingredients in preparing dishes for which he is noted and that he is proud of. To do less - to skimp on quality, to employ questionable if not downright illegal practices - will only guarantee ultimate failure and degradation. The means we choose will, eventually, decide the end result, but not necessarily the one we envisioned.

• The August 1921 issue of The Numismatist reported "no nominations" for the office of ANA president in that year's election of officers. There were nominations for all other offices, including 11 for the four governor positions. In the report of the election committee in the October issue, Moritz Wormser was reported to have received 148 votes for president, a total of 203 votes having been cast in the election.

Apparently Mr. Wormser had no opposition as no other votes for president were reported. One of the candidates for governor received only six votes, the highest number for any candidate having been 157 (the same for two of them). - Glenn S.

A BRIEF SKETCH ON SOME INDO-PORTUGUESE ISSUES

IT IS A KNOWN FACT that the Portuguese coinage in India, which consisted of a vast array of designs, was altogether of a western type. In some cases the designs resemble those on the contemporary coinage of Portugal, although with a few exceptions the pieces are rather crude in appearance.

Of the coins that were issued from their six mints, not all are known as we can see from specimens that are even now being discovered, and have yet to be classified in their proper places. This in itself is a difficult task, due to the lack of many records and the fact that some of the coinage, when finally issued, did not correspond exactly to the resolutions that refer to them. There are also coins from Dio and Damao which do not conform to any known documents, and some of these are certainly the product of unauthorised issues by local governors.

The scope of this article does not enable us to dwell at length either on historical data or on arguments, and therefore we shall mention only briefly about some pieces, as we found them proper to be placed. This has been done in the light of known facts and certain deductions, not only from existing literature but also by interpreting evidence the coins present and, in some cases, the places they have been found. Most of what we are describing consists of either rare or unpublished pieces of Indo-Portuguese coinage.

The first Portuguese coins struck in India were issued from their mint in Goa in 1510, during the government of Viceroy Affonso de Albuquerque. Some of the pieces issued during the reign of D. Manuel (1495-1521) were the gold Cruzado of Manuel, the silver Esfera, and the copper Leal. Halves of each of these pieces were also put into circulation, whilst for smaller change there were the Cepayca and Dinheiro in copper. Two outstanding features struck on this early coinage were the armillary sphere and the cross of Christ.

It is probable that the very first designs on the coinage were changed either by Albuquerque or by his successors but evidently, with the various dies that were used, some varieties were produced. Our specimen (Fig. 1) shows on the obverse, within a circle, the cross of Christ with a point in the centre and one beyond each arm. In each of the four angles a globule. On the reverse, the sphere within a circle. (23mm.)-15.23 g. This specimen is somewhat corroded but the design can be distinguished.

The piece is a Leal, the largest copper coin of the first Portuguese issues in India. A small hoard consisting, amongst others, of four such specimens was found close to the former capital city of Goa. At first they were issued at 13 pardaos per quintal, only to be raised by Albuquerque's successor to 23¼ pardaos, thus lowering the weights of the pieces.

This was the beginning of a series of fluctuations to which this coinage was subjected by following governments during almost a century. The disparity between the market value of a metal and that at which coins were issued, was due to wavering economic circumstances brought about by quite a number of factors.

Of the coinage during the reign of D. Joao III (1521-1557) some varieties of Bazarucos showing Y on one side and a sphere or cross on the other, are well-known. We would however like to present a variety, reference to which was made by us in an earlier publication.¹ The copper specimen (Fig. 2) has J on the obverse between two crude points and on the reverse the cross of St. George with a point in each angle. (21 mm.)-8.94 g.

1. Some of The Rarer Specimens in Early Indo-Portuguese Coinage-Goa 1970.

A specimen the like of which has been generally included in the earlier reign of D. Manuel is a small copper piece (Fig. 3 & 4) showing on the obverse the crowned arms of Portugal between the letters I - B, and on the reverse, the sphere. Beaded circles surround the designs on either side (17/18 mm.)-3.87/3.67 g. We have illustrated with two specimens on one of which there is a trefoil or a tripod attached to the sphere, depending on how one looks at it. Since we can see in some other cases a flat base or a conical pedestal attached to the sphere, we would tend towards it being a tripod. There is besides no special meaning we could attribute to a trefoil on this coinage.

Regarding the placing of this coin, some such specimens show only the letter I to the left and nothing visible on the right, either due to weak striking or wear, and probably therefore they are classified as one Cepayca, the smallest piece of the first issues in India. Now, according to our specimen if we interpret I - B as one Bazaruco, then it could only have been struck later, in the reign of D. Joao III, when the denomination of Bazaruco was introduced in this coinage, presumably to substitute the Leal and its subdivisions which then ceased as monetary units.

The government of Martim Affonso de Souza (1542-1545) cannot go unrecorded in the annals of Indo-Portuguese numismatics. Coins were issued in copper at 36 pardaos per quintal when the market value was only half of it. The inflation led to the issue of smaller pieces, and the following probably belong to that period. One of these (Fig. 5) shows on the obverse Y between two sets of three points each, and on the reverse the cross of Christ with a point in each angle. (13 mm.)-2.27 g. The other (Fig. 6) shows I between two sets of three points each on the obverse, and R on the reverse. (13 mm.) - 1.93g. Since the last specimen is somewhat clipped and worn we could consider it to be equal to the previous one in weight, each corresponding to half Bazaruco.

During the same government, in 1544, the second Portuguese mint in India, at Cochin, was authorized to strike copper coinage, although from records it would appear that this was not the first time this mint was put into operation. A specimen that must have been issued under the same inflationary policy is a small piece (Fig. 7) showing on the obverse a long cross and on the reverse the sphere, both of which are within beaded circles. (11 mm.) - 0.70 g. A small piece of this specimen is missing.

We attribute this specimen to the mint of Cochin for no special reason except the fact that it was found in a hoard which reportedly was discovered in this place. Our specimen is the only one of its type that we have come across. The sphere and the long cross are an unique combination, not seen at any other time in Indo-Portuguese series. A similar cross is however seen on the contemporary gold piece of Portugal, the Cruzado calvario.

From the reign of D. Sebastiao (1557-1578) as the silver pieces, except for the elusive Tanga, are amply known, we shall dwell only on some of the many copper Bazarucos that were issued in this period. The copper coinage was throughout issued at more or less an inflated rate, having started in the very beginning, during the government of D. Constantino de Bragança (1558-1561) when the coinage was issued at almost double the market value of the metal.

Generally the designs consist of letter S, single or multiple arrows, symbolic of St. Sebastian, as well as the crown, arms, and sphere. The cross is also prominent on some specimens, showing in the angles either points or stars of various types. In the midst of this solemn representation of religion and sovereignty one sees inverted letters and arrows, but inversions of letters, numbers, etc. are common in this coinage, there hardly being any reign when this did not take place.

Some of the copper specimens, each of a type, are illustrated. The first (Fig. 8) has a crude sphere struck on one side and S on the other. (14 mm.) - 4.36 g.

The second (Fig. 9) has an arrow within a beaded circle and S within a plain circle (14 mm.) - 2.10 g. The third (Fig. 10) shows an arrow between points and a crude cross with a point in each angle (14 mm.) - 2.19 g. The next (Fig. 11) shows S between two points, and three crossed arrows under the crown. The design on each side is surrounded by plain and beaded circles. (19 mm.) - 5.54 g.

Of these pieces, the first three are of a crude type, whilst the last one is, unquestionably, of a much better workmanship. The composition of the crown and arrows resembles that on the silver pieces issued in this reign and this copper coin must have also been struck at the mint of Goa. But it is difficult to imagine that the crude pieces were also struck at a mint that produced such fine specimens as the silver Bastiao and its half.

A fact worth noting is that pieces of workmanship comparable to that of the last specimen described are even now occasionally being found in Goa, whilst the first three specimens were obtained by us from sources close to the region of Bombay-Bassein. The crude pieces were probably issued from the mint in Cochin for circulation in Chaul and elsewhere in the North. The first specimen showing a sphere is probably a Bazaruco issued early during the government of D. Constantino de Bragança. The next two specimens would accordingly correspond each to half Bazaruco, or they may have been struck during the second term of government of D. Luis de Athaide (1578-1581) when, it is said, coinage was considerably devalued. This was towards the end of the reign of D. Sebastiao.

Of the reign of Filipe I^o (1580-1598) only a few copper and silver pieces are known, although there are records of many more issues of which no specimens have yet been found. Tin was probably used in this reign for coinage and so was gold, but the type of such coins have not yet been positively identified.

2. Filipe II of Spain.

In the subsequent reign of Filipe II (1598-1621) there was a resolution passed in the year 1600 for striking Bazarucos in tin, which were to show on one side the crowned arms, and on the other the armillary sphere. We present a specimen of tin (Fig. 12) which could be attributed to this issue. The crowned arms are between the letters G - A, the mint mark of Goa. (18 mm.) - 3.14 g. This specimen along with another similar but slightly smaller piece was found in Goa and, although lying in fresh water silt, is observed to be in fine state of preservation.

We have similar specimens in copper, some showing the sphere and others a wheel, both with the Portuguese arms and the mint mark of Goa. Perhaps these too were struck at about the same time. In Indo-Portuguese coinage the resolutions often do not state every detail of the designs to be adopted, but merely stress on the weights and composition of the metal. In some cases it has been seen that even this was not strictly adhered to.

Here our attention is drawn to the reappearance of the armillary sphere at this stage, and the reason for it to be struck on the coinage. We know it was the device of D. Manuel during whose reign his navigators discovered the sea route to the East. Is it that the motive was to commemorate a century of Portuguese establishments in India?

We shall now proceed to the very end of the reign of Filipe III (1621-1640). As a background to the specimen we are going to describe we may state that the silver coinage in 1640 consisted of Xerafim and its subdivisions showing on one side the crowned arms, and on the other the standing effigy of St. Philip, flanked by the letters S - F and the date 16 - 40.

The news that the revolution of December 1640, in Lisbon, had ousted Filipe III and brought D. Joao IV to the throne of Portugal, was known in Goa only in September 1641, by which time similar coins were issued for this year. It has been generally believed that the silver pieces of D. Joao IV (1640-1656) were issued in Goa from 1642, but the existence of the following specimen now proves that there was a second issue during the last three months of 1641.

Our specimen (Fig. 13) shows on one side the crowned arms of Portugal between G - A, and on the other the effigy of St. John (the Baptist) flanked by S - I and (1) 6-41. (26 mm.) - 11.09 g. This now shows that the silver coinage of D. Joao IV was issued from 1641, and although so far only the Xerafim is known, we may presume that smaller pieces of this type were also struck in the same year.

It seems that the effigies of saints were struck on some Indo-Portuguese series mainly for the purpose of propagation of faith in the East. How else can it be explained otherwise, the absence of these very effigies on the contemporary coinage of Portugal? The effigy of St. John was the last to be struck on silver pieces of this coinage up to about 1655, and the effigy of St. Thomas can be seen on the gold coinage issued till 1726-27.

Proceeding with the reign of D. Joao IV, we find that a decision taken in 1650 led to the issue of silver pieces showing on one side the crowned arms and on the other, the cross of Christ with the date. Accordingly Xerafins and its subdivisions were struck from then onwards. Quite a number of specimens of such type of coinage is known to exist, each of these having a distinguishing mint-mark, such as G-A for Goa, D-O for Dio and A-D for pieces struck in Goa but meant for circulation either at Dio or Damao.

Of these series we present an unusual Xerafin (Fig. 14) struck during the reign of D. Affonso VI (1656-1667). On the obverse we can see the crowned arms between the letters C-O and on the reverse the cross of Christ with the date 1-6-6-1. (25 mm.) - 10.21 g. Besides the mint-mark, the other uncommon features on this specimen are the crowned arms which show considerably difference from other such pieces, insofar as the lines of the engraving. The arms of the cross end in a convex shape, which is not seen in any other specimen we have known.

These details lead us to think that this piece may not have been struck in Goa, and the letters C-O seem to indicate Cochín from where the coin may have been issued. But at the moment we could not state definitely either the mint-mark used at Cochín or whether this mint was in operation in 1661. The only other alternative is that the piece was struck in Goa for circulation at Cochín.

In conclusion we shall consider a gold piece of XVIII century which, judging from existing publications, appears to be extremely rare. In 1762 the government of Manuel de Saldanha de Albuquerque ordered the issue of gold

S. Tomes of the values of 12, 8, 4, and 2 Xerafins. These pieces have on the obverse the ornate crowned arms of D. Joao V and on the reverse, the cross of St. Thomas with the date numerals, two each on either side of the lower arm of the cross. The legend around reads C.R. (U)S.D.(E)S.T.(O)M.E. which in Portuguese means cross of St. Thomas.

The weight of the largest piece of this issue is about 4.9 g. and although four values were ordered to be issued, only the specimens of 12 Xerafins seem to have been in evidence up to now. Our specimen (Fig. 15) is a S. Tome of 2 Xerafins dated 1762. (11 mm.) - 0.81 g. Gold pieces of this type were struck up to 1765.

Young Numismatist Correspondence Course Off to Big Start!

Over 200 applications for the Young Numismatist correspondence course have been received in the first six weeks it has been offered. Somewhat over half of those applying are over 18 years of age, approximately one quarter to one third of the applicants being nonmembers of ANA. Most of the students are in the Northeast part of the country with the Midwest and Southeast parts having sizeable numbers of students applying.

Because of the heavy interest in the YNCC, ANA Governor Kenneth Hallenbeck requests that applicants be patient. A lot of work is necessary to set up the mechanics for the course for each student, and it is behind schedule.

Some 38 people from all parts of the country have volunteered to be YNCC administrators who will grade the course lessons. Each will handle about 10 students in order to give personal help.

Demand has been very heavy for the yellow binder for the course, resulting in an order being placed for more binders at a higher cost, now $3.00 each. These binders will be sent to those ordering them as soon as they become available, probably in three or four weeks.

Applicants for the YNCC are currently arriving at ANA headquarters at the rate of about 45 per week. This is causing a problem in getting each student properly "set-up," and involving delays of several weeks.

The ANA officers are pleased with the early response to this new service offered by the association. Much time has been consumed in its preparation and now those applying for it are asked to exert patience during its maiden launching.

WHY COLLECT CHECKS?

The Doctor Jack Pot Mining Company

Mines in Cripple Creek Mining District, Colorado

The Story of Farmers With Faith

THE FIRST DISCOVERY of gold in Cripple Creek, Colorado, actually was made in 1874. A member of Hayden's surveying group, T. H. Lowe, found a small amount of rich float in a meadow near the present site of the city. He became excited over his discovery and quickly organized a prospecting party to cover all the nearby gulches. This group did find a little gold, but not enough to justify an attempt at mining and, with their departure, the thought of finding gold was forgotten.

Bob Womack, while riding the range during the eighties, was always on the lookout for float; always hoping that he could find gold. Frequently he took specimens to Colorado Springs and showed them to everyone he met, but no one paid any attention to him. By the summer of 1891 Womack had discovered good float, which assayed $25 a ton, and soon he struck a vein "which glistened with sylvanite."

He hurried to Colorado City, located a short distance west of Colorado Springs, to celebrate his discovery. In a state of drunken excitement he disposed of his claim, which he had named The El Paso, for $500 in cash. Shortly thereafter, as his discovery became known, hundreds of men rushed into the cattle land and staked claims over a six mile square area. Bob Womack was never able to profit from his discovery, but he is credited with being the discoverer of gold in the district.

By the end of the year 1891, $200,000 in gold had been produced. During the next nine years production continued to increase each successive year so that by 1896 total production reached $7,456,763, and by 1900 it had climbed to $18,199,736.

Reports were going out of the Cripple Creek district by telegraph to all parts of the nation. These reports told of the fabulous discoveries and the unheard of wealth being realized from gold. With the release of each report, more people came to the Cripple Creek mining district so that by the end of 1900 the population was in excess of 50,000.

There are many tales of human interest in connection with the gold strikes in the early days of the great Cripple Creek district. The story of how the Jack Pot was "opened" is characteristic.

This property, located about halfway between Cripple Creek and Victor, was leased to a group of Creston, Iowa, people - "A Bunch of Farmers." Old "Bill" Davenport had been the sheriff of Union County, Iowa; he had once visited Cripple Creek and, considered a good handler of men, was fully qualified as a genuine "tenderfoot" to manage the mine operations. "Bill" also possessed the most important qualification for the successful wooing of old Mother Earth, and that was faith.

They worked the Jack Pot and expended all of their funds, amounting to $13,000, but they had not "hit the pot." They requested that Bill return to Creston and attend a meeting of the shareholders. Bill read the handwriting on the wall - no more money for the Jack Pot; they would swallow their loss and quit. Now let it be known that $13,000 meant a real and heavy loss to those Iowa farmers.

The stockholders' meeting had the air and atmosphere of a funeral parlor, but old Bill and his Jack Pot were not to be buried prematurely. The tall farmer-president of the leasing company had started to deliver the funeral services and the eulogy of their costly loss when old Bill spoke up and delivered his ultimatum of faith; the lease would not shut down for at least another month, even if he had to carry the entire financial burden alone.

As master of ceremonies, the presi-

The above check, issued by Doctor Jack Pot Mining Company, was drawn payable to A. E. Carlton, president of the company, the Cresson Mine and the world famous Portland Mine. He was also the president of the First National Banks in both Victor and Cripple Creek, and was often referred to as "The King of Cripple Creek." This check was signed by his brother, L. G. Carlton.

A recent picture of the remains of the cabin in which Bob Womack was living at the time he made his gold discovery in the Cripple Creek district. The cabin was located in Poverty Gulch, just east of Cripple Creek.

dent voiced the opinion that Bill, having been on the ground and having enough confidence to invest more of his own money, was good enough for him; and further, it was easier for two to carry the load than one alone. He then stated that he would "put-in" with Bill. One after another, the men agreed to share the burden with Bill - for Bill knew, and had the necessary faith.

Before adjourning the meeting, they voted that the lease should be continued just ONE more month, but at the end of that time, if the Jack Pot had not fulfilled its name, so far as Iowa was concerned, their mining efforts would come to a conclusion.

The very next day Bill received a wire from Cripple Creek, reading as follows:

HAVE STRUCK TWO AND ONE-HALF FEET OF SIXTY DOLLAR ORE

WITH MORE IN SIGHT THAT LOOKS BETTER.

They had opened the Jack Pot. They were not required to put in one dollar more than the $13,000 already spent, and the Jack Pot lease produced $1,250,000. The leasing company, from its $13,000 investment, paid dividends to those "Iowa Farmers" of $433,000.

Later the adjoining Doctor property tangled in costly litigation over an apex. Ultimately the properties in conflict were consolidated into the Doctor-Jack Pot Company, controlled by the Carlton interests. Their combined production record was $7,500,000.

It has been said that those who knew "Bill" would readily assert that he cried for joy over the good fortune which he had brought to his friends and neighbors - Old Bill had faith and a big heart!

FEATURING FAKES

This is the tale of the hoodwinked!

Incidentally, it's also the story of a climate which seems just right for out-and-out swindles, for bribery of state officials, for the double and even the triple cross, for the fear of bodily injury and even the threat of murder in the warm waters of the Gulf Stream and the Florida coast!

Whether or not the Florida Mafia is involved, I have no idea.

But, take the romance of the days of those swashbuckling buccaneers of the Spanish Main, bandy the names of those now-grown-glamorous freebooters who holed up in the islands off the Atlantic coast of Florida . . . Bartholomew Rogers, Edward Teach (alias Blackbeard), Captain Misson, Anne Bonney, Captain William Kidd, Captain John Avery (alias Long Ben), Mary Read of the Pirate Republic and the Jolly Roger . . . add the lure of "a hundred million dollars for the taking" of glistening yellow gold doubloons from the holds of the sunken treasure ships of the Spanish kings, and you have the perfect climate to attract just such an outfit as the Mafia.

The hoodwinked can be a professional man whose greed leads him to "invest" $50,000 for a one per cent interest in a proposed diving operation on the empty promise of a hundred million dollar salvage.

The hoodwinked can be a retired couple who sell their home for $29,000 and hand the cashier's check to the rapid-talking lad who offers the couple a share in a never-to-be salvage operation, after flashing a few pieces of gold doubloons with which he one night may have "salted" some old wreck.

Or the hoodwinked may be a host of coin collectors and coin dealers who haven't discovered yet that they've been victimized by such fakes as a 1732 Mexico 8 reales, or as the 1733 fake pictured above, or by faked "fingers" of gold, or by faked gold curved toothpicks, or by faked "cobs" in gold or silver, such as have been peddled around this country, allegedly salvaged from a wrecked Spanish galleon.

All the coin clubs in the Republic of Mexico already have been alerted against these Florida fakes, since it's suspected that norteamericanos also have offered those counterfeits for sale in Mexico, and I'm depending on these pages to help spread the news in the U.S.A.

THE CROOKS RUSH IN

All which was needed to bring the crooks rushing into the field was the wide publicity given to the early, truly legitimate Florida salvage operations. And no doubt there still are bona fide wrecks to be found and treasure to be salvaged, but my advice is to proceed with caution, lots and lots of caution!

By 1969, to my personal knowledge, thieves had entered the Florida numismatic field with counterfeit, allegedly salvaged Spanish Colonial gold 8 escudos dated 1731, as well as 4, 2, and one escudos. (See April 1970 The Numismatist.)

That's when, in February 1970, I tried to blow the whistle on one of the gang's "salesmen" for use of the mails with intent to defraud, for manufacturing gold without a license, and for deceptive trade practices. Possibly the arm of justice in Florida is as puny as it is in California, inasmuch as that "salesman" still is walking around, free, in Florida.

You'll be interested to learn the production cost of some of these allegedly salvaged 1732 and 1733 and other fakes of New Spain's coinage.

Manufactured today in Southeast Asia, flown to Florida, there subjected to a little-known but sophisticated chemical treatment to duplicate the appearance of coins submerged in ocean water for nearly three centuries, and then unloaded at fancy prices to the gullible, a selling price of $4,000 leaves a modest but worthwhile profit for an afternoon's work.

The cost of the piece in Southeast Asia is, say, $10 to $25. Airmail postage to Florida is 42 cents. To that, add ten bucks' worth of labor time and chemicals, and you have the production cost. Of interest to the Mafia?

Would it seem a Mafia-like operation when a respected coin dealer fears for his life when he dares refuse to handle such counterfeit "salvaged" rarities?

FAKES AT THE TEAPARTY

At ANA's Boston convention in August, some of those Florida fakes were shown as "genuine, salvaged rarities" which showing could have been prevented, had ANA set up a system of "casing" the coins being offered at all ANA conventions.

In the April '72 issue of this magazine, I suggested that ANA or OIN or PNG should, finances permitting, hire a retired law enforcement man to attend all major coin shows and to "case" the coins displayed on the bourse tables. Two readers of this column promptly wrote and offered to donate three or four hundred dollars toward the cost of such a law enforcement man's salary, but otherwise my idea laid an egg!

The suggestion still is a good one, and hopefully ANA's new board may find a way to put it into effect.

It's appropriate here to remind everyone that, in February '72, there was added to ANA's by-laws a "get tough" amendment which makes eligible for expulsion anyone who . . . knowingly or unknowingly . . . offers for sale or trade on three occasions a counterfeit or altered coin.

The reasoning behind that amendment was that ANA should not subject its members to any seller who can't tell a genuine coin from a fake.

You, though, are interested in preventing such sales of fakes . . . especially a sale to you!

So, Mafia or no Mafia, please do not, do not, do not buy any of these "salvaged" artifacts, gold curved toothpicks, coin rarities, silver or gold "fingers" or bars, without, in the case of the coins, receiving with the coin a registered certificate of genuineness issued by ANA Certification Service, Box 87, Ben Franklin Station, Washington, DC 20044.

And, even then, before you buy, use an 8-X magnifier to compare the photo on the certificate with the coin itself, hairline by hairline, edge by edge nick. Even after buying with a certificate, you might write ANACS to check if that certificate's number matches the records of ANACS.

Yes, proceed with caution!

The Coins at the Back of the Book

As a wholesaler of modern coins, I read with great interest an article by Mr. Mark Pitcock in your August edition and would like to make the following comments:

The situation in regard to proof coins and pseudo coins, proof and unc. issued after 1960, is complex. We have to make a distinction between:

- a) Pseudo coins, which Mr. Pitcock calls supercrowns.
- b) Proof and prooflike issues from legal tender coins; (e.g. Austrian 25/50 series, German DM 5 and DM 10 pieces, Netherlands 10 G. 1973).
- c) Eastern European coins

In regard to supercrowns, as they are issued upon authority of governments and distributed through firms, like Italcambio or Paramount, they are correctly not listed in the Yeoman book but referred in current coins, to back pages, as controversial recent issues. They should remain there, since those issues have neither an investment value nor are they worthwhile to collect. However, the Yeoman catalogue has an obligation to inform collectors that such items exist and each individual can pass his own judgement on this principal of listing by Yeoman.

Proof issues from legal tender have essential old tradition in most European countries, like Great Britain, Austria, Germany and Holland. The issue price for those coins is higher than their face value, (e.g. Netherlands, 10 G. 1973 - hfl 40.00, Austria sch 50 - cost S 75.). But these coins are acceptable as legal tender in each individual country. Bread and butter can be purchased with those coins, which is not the case with supercrowns mentioned before. They are sold by government agencies and all are listed by Yeoman correctly in the catalogue, or the proof set section.

The last category is coins issued by several Eastern European countries, such as East Germany/DDR, Hungary and Bulgaria. Although those coins are sold by government agencies, outside their countries, they are minted only for purpose to raise hard currency. Those coins are practically unobtainable in the country of origin, and bread and butter can not be purchased with them. Sales prices are way above face value. Recently, East Germany has issued some cu/ni commemorative coins which circulate in the country, but at least the majority fall in the category of pseudo coins, since they have no circulation in their respective country.

With the exception of East German, Bulgarian and Hungarian coins, the commemorative types are still listed in Yeoman and I believe also that they belong to the back of the book section

Mr. Yeoman has given the collectors worldwide a valuable and informative book and he was the first one to make a clear distinction between coins and pseudo items. We agree with this firm's policy that it must be flexible. New information becomes available which may lead to re-classification, such as the case of Botswana Y 1, and we may hope also for the recent commemorative coins of Turkey, which are no longer sold by the Turkish Mint but by a private company in Milano.

This flexible policy is the only possibility of keeping the numismatic world informed where coins belong. Since coin collecting is a hobby for free deciding people, we can hope that Mr. Yeoman continues his policy of giving us the best available information on the subject.

Sincerely yours,
Dr. G. R. Gruber

NEW & RECENT ISSUES

By Ernst Kraus, LM 129

It is the important duty of The Numismatist to record and illustrate new coins. To accomplish this, ANA members in the United States and abroad are invited to submit new issues to Ernst Kraus, Room 939 (include room number in address), 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N.Y. 10001. Coins will be photographed and returned as soon as possible, and a credit line will be given to anyone assisting.

Germany, East

The 60th anniversary of the death of August Bebel, co-founder of the German Social-Democratic party, is being noted with a 20 mark commemorative coin issue. Bebel was the party's most influential and popular leader for over four decades. Born in 1840, his father died while he was very young and Bebel grew up in extreme poverty. Originally a journeyman by trade, he joined Catholic journeymen's circles for they offered certain educational facilities to working men. Although a Protestant, himself, he first opposed the formation of workers' political movement but then joined with Wilhelm Liebknecht to become the leaders in formation of a workers political party. Elected a member of the German Reichstag, he was imprisoned several times for his political beliefs. New additions of his memoirs have been published since the formation of East Germany as a separate entity and he is revered in this social democratic state.

Y- . 20 mark, 1973. Silver. Obverse:

Mauritania

An independent republic on the west coast of Africa, Mauritania represents the western part of the Sahara Desert. A former colonial territory of France, the country gained full independence in late 1960. It has maintained close ties with France both in language and by remaining in the franc area. Although based on the French franc, their current monetary unit is the khoum with five khoums equal to one ouguiya.

Y-3. 5 ouguiya, 1973. Cupro-nickel aluminum alloy. Obverse: Star over crescent with date palm and millet -- the national emblem; date and value below, 1973 5 OUGUIYA; French legend around, BANQUE CENTRALE DE MAURITANIE. Reverse: Value in Arabic, over star and crescent with ears of corn, within inner circle; Arabic legend around, a repetition of the French on the obverse; Mohammedan date, 1393 AH, at the bottom. Size: 25mm. Edge: Plain.

Y-4. 10 ouguiya, 1973. Cupro-nickel. Similar to preceding except for size and value. Size: 24.5mm. Edge: Milled.

Y-5. 20 ouguiya, 1973. Cupro-nickel. Similar to preceding except for size and value. Size: 28mm. Edge: Milled.

Also reported has been a 1 khoum in aluminum with a plain edge. This latter is a minor value with 5 khoums equal to one ouguiya. The new coins were released to circulation in the end of June 1973. A total eclipse of the sun at the time of release has added a special significance to Mauritians.

Netherlands Antilles

The Netherland Antilles includes six islands in the Caribbean. They are divided into two groups approximately 550 miles apart. Aruba, Bonaire, and Curacao - the ABC Islands - form the Leeward Islands and lie 35 miles off the north coast of South America. The Windward Islands, St. Maarten, Saba, and St. Eustatius - the three "S" Islands - are part of the lesser Antilles and are situated east of Puerto Rico. The Netherlands Antilles form an autonomous part of the kingdom of The Netherlands and are united on a basis of equality with the mother country. The queen of The Netherlands is head of the government of the Antilles and to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the reign of H. M.

Queen Juliana, the government of The Netherlands Antilles released on September 4, 1973, a commemorative 25 Gulden silver coin.

The Syrian Arab Republic

The Socialist Arab Baath party is a revolutionary political Arab movement founded during the 1940's. The first founding congress resolved in 1947 that the party would be a revolutionary popular nationalist movement struggling for the achievement of unity, freedom and socialism through a unified socialist Arab society. The emblem of the party, is a torch held in a symbolic hand over a map uniting all of the Arab nations including the Somali Republic, Sudan, United Arab Republic, Libya, Tunisia, Algeria, Morocco and others, not only appears as one of the designs of the commemorative coin issue marking the 25th anniversary but on a series of stamps issued by the Syrian Arab Republic in Damascus.

Space Medals Minted for NASA Now Available to Collectors

The International Numismatic Agency, 96 Prince Street, New York City, N.Y. 10012 announces that it has been appointed exclusive distributors for the 13 space medals minted by the L. G. Balfour Company of Massachusetts. The medals were made for distribution to NASA and the space industry and were heretofore not available to the general public.

Minted in sterling silver and pewter, the 13 medals were designed from sketches and photographs approved by NASA artists and technicians. They commemorate the following space flights: Freedom 7, Friendship 7, Gemini 5, Gemini 6 & 7, Gemini 8, Apollo 8, Apollo 11, Appollo 12, Appollo 13, Apollo 14, Apollo 15, Apollo 16, Apollo 17.

The medals are minted in high relief and measure 1 3/16 inches in diameter. They are struck in a new three dimensional relief technique developed by Balfour, which stresses the carved contours of the design elements. This unusual perspective involves the viewer as a participant in the drama of each mission.

The medals are housed in a custom designed leatherette chest lined with silk and velvet. They are available in complete sets only, by special order requiring six to eight weeks for delivery.

STERLING SILVER COLLECTION—including 13 hallmarked sterling silver medals. Each set handsomely presented in leatherette chest with Certificate of Registration. Price: $150 per set plus $1.50 postage and insurance fee.

PEWTER COLLECTION—including 13 pewter medals. Each set handsomely presented in leatherette chest with Certificate of Registration. Price: $45 per set plus $1.50 postage and insurance fee.

Orders are being accepted now by the agency. Payment may be made by personal or company check. BankAmericard, MasterCharge, or American Express also honored. Complete satisfaction is guaranteed or full refunds will be made upon return of the set in the original condition within ten days of customer receipt.

The collecting of space oriented memorabilia is a major American pastime. The availability to the public of the actual medals minted with NASA approval, for their private distribution, represents for the collector a unique opportunity to add an important space item to his collection. The NASA space missions are believed by many to be America's major contribution to world history during the 20th century.

DOLLAR

The dollar is a descendant of the German thaler first struck in Bohemia in 1525. Originally called the Joachimsthaler, it was later shortened to thaler and became the best known and most popular coin of Europe.

The equivalent of the German thaler was called the daalder in the Low Countries, the dalar in Poland, the tallero in Italy. It also appeared with a name prefix such as the davidsthaler. The abundance of silver on the continent and the demand for such a coin for trade and commerce perpetuated its popularity for four centuries.

The term dollar is used in several countries, principally Canada, China and the United States.

Our United States dollar was authorized April 2, 1792 by an Act of Congress and was first minted in 1794.

Pictured are the joachimsthaler and the U.S. silver dollar of 1794.

The Frasers, James & Laura

END OF THE TRAIL by Dean Krakel, 1973, 196 pages. Illustrated. University of Oklahoma Press, 1005 Asp Ave., Norman, Okla. 73069. Hard cover, $8.95; paper cover, $3.95.

Lives there a person who never has seen a replica or picture of the statue "End of the Trail" by James Earle Fraser? And who can call himself a coin collector unless he has admired the Indian head/buffalo nickel by Fraser, or the Grant Memorial half dollar by his wife, Laura Gardin Fraser?

This new book was written to record the history of Fraser's most famous sculpture, "End of the Trail," and its restoration, but it does much more. In addition to being a renowned sculptor of statues who adorned the facades, bridgeheads, parks and public halls of his country (he was born in Winona, Minnesota), Fraser and his wife produced several of our coin designs and numerous medals. The book gives the reader a concise look into the lives of these prolific artists, lists their important works chronologically, and includes large illustrations of a number of them.

"End of the Trail," was inspired by "... an old Dakota trapper saying, 'The Indian will someday be pushed into the Pacific Ocean,'" according to a notation in Fraser's memoirs. He received an award for his Model of it in 1898, but the two-and-a-half life size statue in plaster (on a chicken wire frame) was produced for and exhibited at the San Francisco Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915. It established Fraser's place among the great sculptors of this country, along with such as Augustus Saint-Gaudens under whom Fraser served as an assistant.

Following the close of the exposition the great work was allowed to deteriorate toward extinction. Through the efforts of this book's author and others, "against great odds" that started early in 1968, the original statue was acquired, restored, and finally placed in the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Oklahoma City some three years later.

Here also, by the way, are preserved a number of the Fraser's other works, including his original plaster models of the designs for the Indian head/buffalo nickel. Fraser later recalled that: "In designing it, my objective was to achieve a coin which would be truly American, that could not be confused with the currency of any other country. I made sure, therefore, to use none of the attributes which other nations had used in the past . . ."

As a reviewer, I became fascinated with this book, its story of "The Odyssey of a Statue," the all-too-brief accounts of two of our great sculptor-medalists, and the beautifully reproduced pictures of some of their works. The book has many reference footnotes and an unstinted index. My one adverse comment is that I became a bit confused, at times, as to which restoration of "End of the Trail" was being described for there is a full-sized one in Mooney Grove Park in Visalia, California, also. That did not stop me, however, from buying a personal copy of this fine book.

The First of a Series

ANCIENT GREEK COINS by G. K. Jenkins. London: Barrie & Jenkins, Ltd., 1972. 312 pages. Price £7.00.

The author of this book, who is Keeper of the Department of Coins and Medals in the British Museum, was also the co-author of an important 1963 monograph on Carthaginian gold and electrum coins which stressed the metrological aspects of the series.

Ancient Greek Coins is the first of a series of books in preparation under the title, "The World of Numismatics," and which is to deal with modern, Byzantine, Roman, medieval and European coins of the period 1500-1789. (It seems regrettable that no volume on Indian coins has been announced for the series, since such a volume with good illustrations is strongly needed.)

The volume under consideration contains 112 plates measuring 7¼ by 9¼ inches, of which 20 are in color. Nearly all of the coins illustrated in color are of gold. The illustrations are enlargements, but the captions include the diameters in millimeters as well as the weights in grams. A total of 695 sides of coins are illustrated.

The author draws on his knowledge of Greek coins and stresses their artistic and historical values. Instead of the usual geographical arrangement of the material, he chooses a chronological arrangement resulting in chapter headings such as "The Archaic Period," "The Fourth Century," "The Hellenistic Period." The photography and printing technique yield illustrations with excellent detail.

One feature of this book mars its value, namely the fact that very few of the captions specify the kind of metal in the coins. This is difficult to understand, since the usual symbols for metal take very little space and since their inclusion would have made the use of this work much more convenient. It is also difficult to understand why the author did not include the specific gravities of the coins, at least those of the gold and electrum coins, since his monograph on the Carthaginian series is distinguished almost as a pioneer work by its inclusion of specific gravities, which are of utmost importance in the description of electrum coins.

Although a description of the series in which this book is appearing, found on the dust jacket, would seem to indicate that the series is intended primarily for the "emergent collector," most of the coins illustrated in the volume are by no means of the sort that most emergent collectors would be likely to acquire. Approximately one-tenth of the coins illustrated are of gold or electrum, while there are only a few illustrations of bronze coins, which are often of considerable historical importance.

-Dr. Charles E. Weber

Editor's note

The review of COINS AND ALL ABOUT THEM by Brian Edge, on page 1214 of the July issue should have stated that the American distributor is Transatlantic Arts, Inc., North Village Green, Levittown, NY 11756, and that the price is $6.95. The price quoted in the review was incorrect.

International Numismatic Congress A New York to Washington Event

By Adna G. Wilde, Jr.

The International Numismatic Congress had its beginning in 1891, the same year that the ANA was founded, but this year's congress held September 10-15, in New York City and Washington, D.C., was only its eighth. The meeting was organized by the International Numismatic Commission in collaboration with the American Numismatic Society and the Smithsonian Institution. The last previous Congress was held in Copenhagen, Denmark, in 1967.

Visitors to the Congress assembled at the Statler Hilton Hotel in New York City on September 9 to be ready for the morning meeting of the following day. The list of registrants read like "Who's Who in World Numismatics," with 33 countries represented. The United States lead with 119 participants, France had 24, there were 28 countries with more than one present and 13 countries sent one representative each.

The opening session was held in the auditorium of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, Audubon Terrace, in New York City. This portion of the Congress was sponsored by the ANS, next door to the academy. Visitors were welcomed to the Congress by Margaret Thompson, chairman of the Organizing Committee; Samuel R. Milbank, president of the ANS; and Georges Le Rider, president pro tem of the International Numismatic Congress.

The remainder of the opening day was devoted to the presentation of numismatic papers. The delegates had a variety of choices in Greek and Roman, medieval, Islamic and Western Hemisphere subjects.

The ANS had an outstanding numismatic exhibit that had been especially prepared for the Congress. The subject was Coinage for the Americas - tracing the history of New World coinage as it reflects European traditions and indigenous development. The ANS has just published a book Coinage of the Americas, edited by Theodore V. Buttrely, Jr., and I recommend these 139 pages of excellent numismatic reading.

The second day, members of the Congress convened at the hotel headquarters to have the opportunity to listen again to numismatic papers. More subjects were offered than could be presented in the limited span of the Congress, however, papers will be a part of the Congress and many will be published at a later date.

That evening the delegates boarded busses and were driven to the Brooklyn Museum, one of America's great art museums, where a reception was held amid the galleries of Egyptian, Classical and Ancient Middle Eastern Art. While time was too short to see the entire museum that evening, other floors were open with exhibits of American paintings, Middle Eastern and Islamic art, Oriental art, and the Indian Sculpture Gallery, African Gallery and the Hall of the Americas.

The third day was free to allow members of the Congress - especially the overseas visitors - to see New York City.

During a luncheon break the first day of the Congress, ANA President Virginia Culver chats with Kenneth Bressett, I., well known author for Whitman Publishing Company, and Adna G. Wilde, Jr., ANA governor and director of the Pioneers' Museum of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The weather remained beautiful with temperatures in the 70's, and many took advantage of the Circle Line three-hour sightseeing cruise around Manhattan Island. I visited the Chase Manhattan Money Museum, located at Rockefeller Center, and further researched a study on known Leshar Referendum souvenir medals. That collection has ten of these interesting Colorado numismatic items, thus bringing my count to 307 known Leshar medals.

That evening the Council of the ANS held a reception in the Medieval Sculpture Hall of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The Metropolitan houses collections of paintings, sculptures and decorative arts of the ancient world, the Near and Far East, Europe and the United States, representing 5,000 years of man's artistic achievements.

On the fourth morning, busses headed south over the New Jersey turnpike. To those from other countries, this four-hour cross country ride gave a better "feel" of our country than the usual forty-minute jet flight at 25,000 feet above sea level.

A luncheon stop was planned at the Evergreen House, Baltimore, Maryland. To the numismatist it was a wonderful opportunity to view the specially prepared exhibit of Ancient and American coins from the John Work Garrett collection. To quote from the descriptive folder: "Evergreen House, formerly the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Work Garrett, was bequeathed to the John Hopkins University by John W. Garrett in 1942. It is maintained by the Evergreen House Foundation, an educational trust set up in 1952 by the will of Alice Warder Garrett (Mrs. John W.) as a research library and museum for the benefit of the university and the people of Baltimore . . .

"As well as books, Harrison and John Garrett gathered together a fine collection of rare coins and medals which, with the University's numismatic collection, now at Evergreen, is considered one of the most important in this country. A special exhibition, of the world rarities from the collection has been prepared for the Congress. The major categories in the exhibition are: American colonial, regular and territorial issues; European rarities; South America, Africa and Asia; Rome and Byzantium; and Greek including Roman issues from Greek East. The exhibition covers the period from the 7th-6th Century B.C. to the first quarter of the 20th Century A.D. and includes about 500 pieces, many unique..."

It was noted that many of the members of the Congress had little interest in lunch, preferring instead to continue examining the exhibits.

The fifth and sixth days of the Congress convened at the National Museum of History and Technology, Smithsonian Institution, with host and hostess

Dr. and Mrs. V. Clain-Stefanelli. Excellent papers were presented. The Numismatic Division of the Smithsonian had prepared an exhibition of the Franco-American Medal of the late 18th Century - medals and jetons illustrative of the relationship between France and America during the Revolutionary War period. Additionally, many pieces from the Elli Lilly collection were displayed.

A reception was held at the Dunbarton Oaks Research Library, where portions of their great collection of Byzantine coins and other Byzantine and early Christian antiquities were on display. The Smithsonian also hosted an excellent reception.

The Congress closed officially at the end of the sixth day; however, sightseeing was in order for many; especially those making their first visit to the United States or to Washington, D.C.

ATTENTION ALL MEMBERS - Except LMs

By the time or very soon after you receive this magazine, you will receive your annual dues statement that is to be mailed about November 16. Nobody "likes" to get a dues statement, but as with the annual income tax return, it is a fact of life. You can save yourself inconvenience and the headquarters staff time (remember, their time represents your money) if you'll follow instructions that accompany the statement.

Perhaps the most important instruction is to return your payment in the special envelope you'll receive. Two or more payments may be enclosed in one envelope, and paid by one check, provided the return portion of each statement is enclosed. Please don't enclose other mail with your dues payment.

You will not receive a new membership card this year, so it is imperative that you keep a record of your dues payment. To facilitate this, a duplicate card, "Member's Copy," is for you to retain. Be sure to retain the correct card and return the other one. Those who want a replacement membership card, as issued within the past year, may obtain it from the headquarters office (P O Box 2366) for $1.00.

Be sure to remit the exact amount of your dues as shown on your statement, which takes account of any credits due you or, in a few instances, of back dues owed. Dues are the same as last year's except that Associate Members' dues for 1974 are $2.00.

Donations are welcomed, of course, and may be included with your dues payment. You will receive a receipt, acceptable to IRS as proof of a contribution for income tax credit, and your name will be published in The Numismatist if your donation is $10 or more.

To summarize: Read the instructions on your dues statement and follow them closely. Some of them may seem trivial, even silly, but they are all designed to speed operations and avoid errors. Helping your headquarters staff helps the association, of which you are a part.

F. Steven Epps – Edward L. Hardeman

F. Steven Epps
ANA 7679

Dr. F. Steven Epps, an oculist whose health had been failing for several years, died on September 17 at the age of 70. He spent the past summer at a family home in Winchendon, Mass., and died after a short stay in a hospital in Gardner.

An ANA member since late 1939, Dr. Epps was most widely known for his nearly 18 years of service to the Central States Numismatic Society. He was its president in 1962-64 but more importantly was its secretary for some 10 years. Known widely as a goodwill ambassador for CSNS and the hobby in general, he was named Secretary Emeritus of the society at its annual convention in Peoria in May 1973.

Dr. Epps served as ANA National Coin Week chairman in 1952, received the CSNS Medal of Merit in 1959 and the Elston G. Bradfield Literary Award in 1970 for contributions to The Centinel. He did extensive research in plastics and their relationship to coins as protective housings. His E & T Container firm dealt in coin supplies, primarily in plastic containers and envelopes for storing coins.

Born in New England in 1902, Dr. Epps lived in Charleston, West Virginia, before establishing his long time home and practice in Homer, Michigan. Among survivors are his widow, Dorothy, two sons, a daughter and eight grandchildren.

Edward L. Hardeman
ANA - 4413

Thirty-nine year member Edward L. Hardeman died in Arnot-Ogden Hospital in Elmira, N.Y., on June 25 at the age of 78. Death followed a short illness and heart attack.

Mr. Hardeman joined the ANA in 1934 when he was purchasing agent and a teller of the Chemung Canal Trust Company in Elmira where he had started as a draft clerk in 1912 and from which he retired as vice president. He was active in numerous local, county and state organizations, having been a 50-year member and the first Elmiran to hold every office in the New York State Association of Country Agricultural Societies. He was a 32nd Degree Mason and a 50-year member of the Ivy Lodge, F. & A.M.

His collecting interest dated back to 1912 and encompassed several areas of coinage from ancient coins to modern proof sets. Coin collecting was a joy to him for over half a century and he was proud of his low ANA membership number. Mrs. Hardeman recalls with pleasure their enjoyable visit to ANA headquarters several years ago.

Mr. Hardeman is survived by his widow, Stella, a sister, nephew and several great nieces and nephews.

CENTURY OLD NOTES

Some idea of the minting activity in Nevada may be formed from the fact that the United States Mint at Carson is coining about a million dollars a month. American Journal of Numismatics, October 1873.

SUPPLEMENT TO ADMIRAL DEWEY ADVERTISING CARDS

WILLIAM S. DEWEY, ANA LM-52

A PAPER ENTITLED Admiral Dewey Advertising Cards and Some Related Pieces was published in the August and September 1972 issues of The Numismatist. Since that time, two items have been discovered that merit the attention of all collectors who may have an interest in the series.

One of the pieces, while essentially a souvenir or commemorative badge, displays Admiral Dewey's portrait on one side while carrying a message of the Chicago Fall Festival on the other. However, because it was manufactured with a loop at the top and comes suspended from a bar pin, it cannot truly be considered an advertising card. But it is, nevertheless, akin to our Chicago Fall Festival card (#6 in the original paper), and is in the nature of an ad. Consequently, there seems justification for listing it here as a supplementary item, designated S-1.

The other piece, while definitely an advertising card, does not conform to the rule in the original paper that calls for a portrait of the admiral on one side. This card, instead, bears a replica of Admiral Dewey's flagship, the Olympia, on obverse with an advertisement for E. Jacobs and Son, Clothiers, on reverse. Again, it is felt that the relationship of this piece with the others is close enough to warrant its listing as a supplementary item, designated S-2.

OBV. Profile head of Admiral Dewey facing right in center. Legend at sides and top along border: ADMIRAL GEO. W. DEWEY. (Note extraneous middle initial; he had no middle name!)

REV. Four wheeled float in center on a patch of ground. A pile of agricultural products in the middle of the float; a farmer standing at left with an upright rake in hand, another farmer at right with a scythe; corn stalks at either end. Legend at top along border: CHICAGO FALL FESTIVAL with OCT. 4-11 below in a conforming curved line. Legend at bottom along border: & P.O. CORNER STONE LAYING. with 1899. RARITY: 9; possibly 10.

 METAL: Brass. SIZE: 28.3 mm. T.A.E. 2.0mm. WEIGHT: 120 grains (card only).
 BORDER: 4. EDGE: 1. ISSUED: 1899.
 MADE BY: Uncertain.
 COLLECTION: W.S. Dewey.

NOTES: This token comes with a loop at the top, and is suspended from a bar pin in the form of a "bow tie" American flag which is enameled in the proper colors. The piece was obviously issued as a souvenir medal rather than as a merchant card or advertising token. As originally issued, the portrait side was suspended so as to be the reverse, rather than the obverse as treated here. Because it is in the nature of an advertisement for the festival, it seems appropriately included in our listing.

S-2. E. JACOBS & SON, NEW YORK CITY.

OBV. The OLYMPIA steaming to right in center. Legend at top along border: DEWEY'S FLAGSHIP, and at bottom in small letters: 5800 TONS. In exergue below water: OLYMPIA.
 REV. In three straight lines across center: CLOTHING / FOR / BOYS & MEN. Scroll type ornamentation above, and at either side of word FOR. Legend at top along border: E. JACOBS & SON, and at bottom: AVE. A. COR. 4th STREET. N.Y. In minute letters below following curve of border: W & H CO NEWARK N J. (Note omitted punctuation.)
 METAL: Gilded copper. SIZE: 32.0 mm. T.A.E. 2.0 mm.
 WEIGHT: 162 grains. BORDER: Obv. 4; Rev. 5. EDGE: 1.
 ISSUED: 1899. RARITY: 9; possibly 10.
 MADE BY: Whitehead & Hoag, Newark.
 COLLECTION: Robert R. Higgins, Memphis, Tenn.

NOTES: Obverse die was taken from the same hub as the Alexander card (#1), the Kann Dep't Store card (#15), and The Leader card (#17); also an Admiral Dewey token.

While this card does not "bear the portrait" of Admiral George Dewey, it does bear his name. It seems appropriate, therefore, to include the piece in the overall listing.

The author would like to thank Mr. Robert R. Higgins for drawing our attention to this card.

Hartke Predicts Passage of Hobby Protection Act

Sen. Vance Hartke, of Indiana, predicted prompt resolution of the Hobby Protection Act now before a joint Senate - House committee.

Speaking to an estimated 1000 persons at ceremonies dedicating the Mount Everest Mint's new headquarters at Willow Grove, Pa., near Philadelphia, Sen. Hartke said he envisioned the bill going to President Nixon for his signature sometime in October.

Hartke introduced the Senate version of the bill, which is designed to protect collectors against reproduction or imitation of old or rare coins, medals or stamps.

Congressman Edward G. Biester, Jr., of Pennsylvania, and Herbert Fineman, speaker of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, also participated in the ceremonies.

David B. Tolins, Jr., Mount Everest Mint president, said the ceremonies marked the completion of the first phase of an approximate $3 million development program planned for minting facilities in Montgomery and lower Bucks Counties.

The Mount Everest Mint, a private mint, produces limited edition silver bars and commemorative medals for its own collectors, collector societies and private sponsors. The mint is a subsidiary of the publically-owned Mount Everest Corporation, of Jenkintown, Pa., a diversified holding company with interests in oil and gas wells, land development and venture capital.

Coinage of the Americas Featured at New York

Coinage of the Americas, a major exhibition devoted to monies of the

Sen. Hartke

New World, opened September 6, 1973, at the American Numismatic Society.

The opening of the exhibit coincided with the arrival in New York of numismatic scholars from 33 countries to attend the International Numismatic Congress which the ANS hosted together with the Smithsonian Institution.

Over half of the entire exhibit space of the society's museum has been devoted to an in-depth analysis of the coinage of this hemisphere. Most of the 1400 specimens included in the exhibit are drawn from the society's own extensive collections, augmented by select items on loan for other collections, notably the Eric P. Newman Numismatic Education Society of St. Louis and the Museum of the American Indian, Heye Foundation.

The exhibit begins with the introduction of coinage into the western hemisphere by the Spanish explorers, and the opening of the first mint in the Americas at Mexico City in 1535. Spanish influence spread rapidly and, coupled with the discovery of rich sources of gold and silver, led to a proliferation of Spanish mints in Latin America producing huge amounts of coinage.

Other European nations, including Portugal, The Netherlands, Sweden, Denmark, France and England, contributed to the numismatic tradition in the Americas. Colonial development and subsequent independence or evolution into the Commonwealth system is detailed for each geographical area of this hemisphere, providing the viewer with a panorama of coinage from the first issues in each area through the coins now in circulation in each country.

Many coin series displayed in the exhibit areas in which the Society's collections are unsurpassed anywhere in the world. The Peruvian and Mexican collections are exceptional, as well as the cut and counter-stamped issues used extensively in the Caribbean during the 18th and 19th centuries. The Canadian section is enhanced by the Society's large collection of early tokens, while for the United States the Society has the finest collection known of the early silver coinage of Massachusetts, struck in the second half of the 17th century, as well as of the U.S. large cents, struck from 1793, the year after the opening of the mint in Philadelphia until the introduction of the smaller copper coin in 1857. The exhibit also utilizes die-trial pieces from the ANS collection to provide a step-by-step analysis of the striking of the high-relief U.S. $20 gold piece of 1907 designed by the famous sculptor, Augustus Saint-Gaudens.

A separate section of the exhibit is devoted to "primitive money" of the Americas, displaying the trade items in use before the advent of coinage under European influence.

A short sight and sound show introduces the exhibit to the visitor. Also available is an exhibit catalogue which is actually a compilation of several richly-illustrated essays written by specialists in the various aspects of western hemisphere coinage.

The exhibit has been supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

ANA POSITIONS AVAILABLE

With the recent resignation of Richard A. Long, museum director, to become a coin dealer again, and that of Thomas A. Marshall, editor, to seek a free lance career, two major openings now exist at ANA headquarters in Colorado Springs.

In addition, applications for assistant to the executive director in Colorado Springs, and assistant to the director of the American Numismatic Association Certification Service (ANACS) in Washington, D.C., are being solicited.

Qualified applicants are requested to submit a resume of educational background and experience and direct them to the Executive Director, American Numismatic Association, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colorado 80901.

Consideration for these positions will be given by the Board of Governors at its Interim Meeting in Colorado Springs in early December.

Applications are also being accepted for staff, clerical and secretarial openings in Colorado Springs. Applications and resumes should also be addressed to the Executive Director.

SHAKESPEARE MEDALS

paul vincze

The project upon which Paul Vincze has embarked in association with the Trustees of Shakespeare's Birthplace envisages the progressive issue of a series of medallions depicting scenes and characters from each of Shakespeare's plays.

Although there have been many Shakespeare medals in the past, no individual sculptor medallist has so far undertaken the task of presenting his interpretation of well-known episodes from each of Shakespeare's plays in this medium.

The series was launched on Shakespeare's birthday, April 23, 1971, the intention being to issue medals at regular intervals every three or four months. The first eight already issued include Hamlet, Romeo and Juliet, Julius Caesar, The Merry Wives of Windsor, Antony and Cleopatra, A Midsummer Night's Dream, The Merchant of Venice and Othello. All still are available in all metals.

The next four to be issued will be Richard the Third, The Tempest, Macbeth, and The Winter's Tale.

The obverse of each medal will bear a representation of Shakespeare set against a background of the Elizabethan stage. The Globe and Swan playhouses recall his role as actor and man of the theatre; the masks of tragedy and comedy symbolize his dramatic genius; and the quotation from Ben Jonson's eulogy aptly sums up his acknowledged reputation both during his own lifetime and since.

The medals are being struck in $2\frac{1}{4}$ in. diameter. The platinum (subject to availability of metal), 22 ct. gold, fine silver gilt and fine silver oxidized medals are limited to the numbers shown below, and each will be supplied with a signed and numbered certificate of authenticity. Gold medals are hall-marked and, like the platinum medals, are numbered.

Velveteen padded presentation cases for single medals can be supplied at $3.25.

It should be noted that in the event of any substantial increase in the price of metals, the right is reserved to revise the prices for future issues as necessary. Those collectors who subscribe for the medals so far announced will be accorded the privilege of reserving the same low number on their certificates for the whole series.

Détails	Issue	Home market price	Export price
Bronze gilded	Unlimited	£ 7.75 (including V.A.T.)	U.S. $17.50
Fine silver oxidized	2,500	£ 14.75 (including V.A.T.)	U.S. $32.50

HOLDOVER CANDIDATES

The following fourteen candidates did not receive the necessary votes at the last election to be enshrined but did receive enough to qualify them as holdovers. Their names will be placed on the ballot of the 1974 election. No further nominations are necessary, but any endorsement citing accomplishments of any of these candidates will be most appreciated by the Council.

BANK NOTES by Malcolm

DID YOU KNOW...

THE BANK OF SAN GIORGIO, ITALY, AGREED WITH PHILIP II TO FINANCE THE SPANISH ARMADA'S INVASION OF ENGLAND. IF ENGLAND'S RICHEST COMMONER, THOMAS SUTTON, HADN'T CREATED A RUN ON THE BANK IN 1587, POSTPONING THE INVASION FOR A YEAR, ENGLAND MAY WELL HAVE FALLEN IN DEFEAT.

GOLD COINS, EACH VALUED AT $228, WERE MINTED BY HUNGARIAN MAGNATE MICHAEL APAFI IN 1661--JUST FOR USE IN TIPPING.

THE FIRST BANK, DATING BACK TO 3900 BC IN EGYPT, IS DESCRIBED AS A CATTLE RANCH WHERE COWS WERE THE MEDIUM OF EXCHANGE AND GIVEN ITEMS PRICED AT "SO MANY CATTLE." THESE BANKS ACCEPTED CATTLE FOR DEPOSIT AND CARE, EVEN ISSUING RECEIPTS FOR FRACTIONAL PARTS.

CENTURY OLD NOTES

The word "humbug" is said to be derived from two Irish words, "uim bog," signifying soft copper, or pewter, or brass, with which the Irish coinage was debased in the reign of James I. Hence "uim bog" for base money, and humbug for that or any other counterfeit. — American Journal of Numismatics, July 1873.

R. S. Yeoman Donates World Reference Collection to ANA

R. S. Yeoman, noted authority on United States and world coins and author of two of the most popular books for collectors — “Handbook of United States Coins.” (Bluebook) and the “Guide Book of United States Coins” (Redbook) — recently donated a collection of almost 2,000 coins used for reference purposes in compiling W. D. Craig’s “Coins of the World 1750-1850.” This donation has filled many voids in the world coin collection in the Museum of the American Numismatic Association.

The coins had been used in connection with compiling Craig’s reference which was published by Whitman Numismatic Division of Western Publishing Company, many of them serving as illustrations in the book. Craig’s catalog was designed to extend Mr. Yeoman’s own “A Catalog of Modern World Coins” backward another century. The period covered by Craig’s catalog and by the coins donated by Mr. Yeoman is approximately 1750-1850. Yeoman’s own reference on world coins covers the period 1850-1950.

The donor is best recognized for his authorship of both the Bluebook and the Redbook. Over the years, these two references have grown in popularity to the end that total sales place them among the top ten best sellers of all time in the nonfiction book field.

Mr. Yeoman’s recent donation to ANA totaled 1,764 coins, very few of which duplicated any in the ANA world reference collection.

Experts in the field of museum displays and layouts will soon be in Colorado Springs to formulate plans to best exhibit this and other ANA collections to the visiting public. The continuing museum acquisition program aims to make available to students and researchers some of the most comprehensive numismatic reference collections in the United States. Mr. Yeoman’s most recent donation has gone a long way in helping ANA toward this goal.

The Numismatist

official publication of the ANA

DISPLAY ADVERTISING RATES

EFFECTIVE FEBRUARY 15, 1972

One-eighth page	$17.25
One-quarter page	27.50
One-half page	52.50
One page	99.50

Color Available — Write for Specifics

The double center pages, inside and back cover pages are available on contract, prices on request. Contract advertisers enjoy the following discounts: 3 months, 2%; 6 mos., 5%; 1 year, 10%.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to Advertising Dept., The Numismatist, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Spring, Colo. 80901. Make all remittances payable to American Numismatic Association.

DEADLINE: Copy must be received by the 5th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue. All advertising copy must be typed.

MECHANICAL REQUIREMENTS: Full page, 28½ x 45 picas; half pages may be either vertical or horizontal in format. Single column width, 13½ picas. Halftone engravings should be 110 line screen, mounted. Mats and stereos unacceptable. Position may be requested but cannot be guaranteed.

CIRCULATION: 28,500. No advertising agency commission granted. No discounts other than contract rates.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE

OTHER REQUIREMENTS: No mail bid sale listings nor ads offering layaways accepted. No ads accepted from minors. All ads must have numismatic significance. When advertising gold for sale, the following must be inserted in the ad, "All gold coins advertised are legally held."

CONTRACTS: Available for three, six and twelve consecutive month periods, at 2, 5 and 10 percent discounts respectively when contract requirements are fulfilled. In lieu of contract, reduced rates are granted only upon total advance payment for the period desired. Cancelled contracts will be rebilled at the next applicable rate. If new copy has not been received by the 5th of the month, the previous month's ad will be repeated.

REFERENCES: All advertisers are required to submit banking and trade references when advertising for the first time. Advertisers must be, or have one responsible member of their company, a member of ANA.

COPY: Ad copy must be typed on paper of good quality, preferably 8½ x 11", and be easily readable, and double spaced. Ad copy should be on separate sheets and never in the body of a letter of transmittal. Trade names may be used, but, except for the name of corporations, the name of the responsible person of the firm must also appear unless such person is known to the advertising manager in which case the name will be kept on file.

There will be an extra charge for heavy composition.

ILLUSTRATIONS: All cuts to be provided by the advertiser. When absolutely necessary engravings can be made from furnished photographs and advertiser will be billed at national rates.

The advertising manager has on file the names and addresses of all advertisers. Any complaints or requests for information regarding advertisers should be referred to the advertising manager. The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

HONEST GRADING

OUR CONSERVATIVE, OLD-TIME GRADING is just one of the reasons why thousands of collectors became our friends in the seven years that we were full-time mail-order dealers in Mexican coins and paper money.

Now, after spending the past two years as the director of a numismatic museum, I am back in business again. Naturally, I will be working with my Mexico specialty again, but I will be dealing also in choice United States and world coins and paper money.

WHETHER YOU'RE AN ADVANCED COLLECTOR or investor or, are just starting to get interested in our field, I think you'll enjoy the personal, friendly treatment that you receive when dealing with us. Remember that I have laid my cards on the table when it comes to grading - at educational forums, seminars, club meetings, in numismatic articles, you name it - everyone knows of my honest grading standards. Doesn't it just make good sense to deal with someone you know you can trust?

WRITE TODAY FOR OUR LARGE CURRENT LIST - it's free. Like any dealer, we ask that you order from time to time to continue receiving our lists, but this is no problem; place a trial order and I'm sure that you'll want to deal with us again.

IF YOU'RE THINKING OF SELLING, drop me a line or send your collection along. Put your price on it, or if you prefer, I'll make the offer. We need material to get our business back on its feet, so you know that we'll be very interested. I can especially use choice early Mexico coins, Mexico and other Latin American paper money, and choice pieces of the United States and other countries.

LET ME HEAR FROM YOU SOON. We'll treat you right - ask anyone.

JAMES F. RUDDY and Q. DAVID BOWERS Proudly Announce . . .

that the

AMERICAN AUCTION ASSOCIATION

will sell at combined public auction and mail bid sale

THE MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION OF

MATT ROTHERT

Distinguished Past President of the
AMERICAN NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION

Featuring

UNITED STATES PAPER MONEY

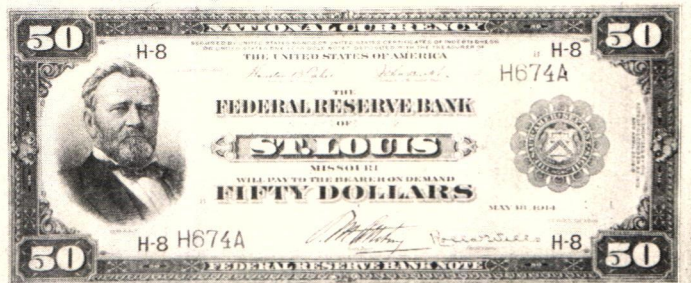

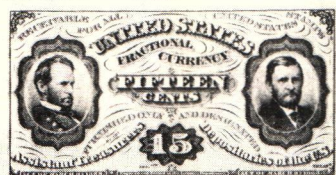

—including important rarities—
and

U.S. FRACTIONAL CURRENCY

—the finest collection ever offered—

Sale to be held in Hollywood
NOVEMBER 16, 17, 1973

It is with great pleasure that we announce the sale at public auction of the fabulous collection of United States paper money formed over a long period of years by Mr. Matt Rothert, distinguished past president of the American Numismatic Association.

The Rothert Collection catalogue will be a numismatic landmark and will include in addition to Mr. Rothert's holdings the collection of United States half dimes formed by Dr. W.E. Caldwell, the George A. Merriweather Collection of United States colonial issues, and other items of interest and importance.

U.S. CURRENCY from the Rothert Collection includes a virtually complete offering of fractional notes—the largest, finest, and most comprehensive selection ever to be catalogued and sold. Many of the notes were used to illustrate Mr. Rothert's reference work, "A Guide Book of U.S. Fractional Currency," issued by Whitman Publishing Company. Included will be scarce, rare and unique pieces. Large and small size regular U.S. notes include many extreme scarcities and rarities as well as popularly-priced issues. The famed St. Louis $50, one of two known Petaluma $100 National Gold Bank Notes, a run of Uncirculated $5 "Onepapa" notes by signature varieties, "Technicolor" notes, and others will be illustrated and described.

U.S. HALF DIMES are from the celebrated collection of Dr. W.E. Caldwell. The offering is COMPLETE and includes each and every date and mintmark of half dime from the 1792 half disme through to 1873, and including the exceedingly rare 1859 transitional, the 1860 transitional, choice early issues, gem Uncirculated examples of numerous dates, half dime patterns, etc.

U.S. COLONIAL COINS from the George A. Merriweather Collection include nearly fifty Oak Tree and Pine Tree silver pieces of Massachusetts, a wide selection of state coinage, pieces honoring George Washington, etc.

U.S. GOLD COINS include virtually complete sets of the Saint-Gaudens $10 and $20 issues, including one of just 42 1907 $10 with rolled edge and periods, a gem 1929 $20, and others of importance. Early gold coins include $1, $2½, a date run of $3, $5, $10, and $20 pieces.

U.S. SILVER COINS include gem Liberty walking halves from 1916-1947, Liberty standing quarters, Washington quarters, Mercury dimes, Barber 10c, 25c, and 50c, choice Liberty seated issues, rare early silver, and so on . . . a really fantastic offering.

U.S. SILVER DOLLARS include early issues, Liberty seated pieces, and a magnificent offering of Morgan dollars of all dates and mintmarks, including a complete run of Proofs (including 1895 and 1921), and Peace dollars.

OTHER U.S. COINS include half cents, large cents, Indian and Lincoln cents, 2c and 3c, rare trade tokens and merchants' tokens, U.S. patterns, etc.

COINS OF THE WORLD include rare and desirable crowns, pattern issues, copper, nickel, and silver minor issues, and ancient pieces.

WORLD GOLD COINS include a type set formed by Mr. Matt Rothert, and other important scarcities and rarities.

HOW TO OBTAIN YOUR CATALOGUE: This large and extensively illustrated (over 1,000 photographs!) catalogue will be a reference work for years to come. To order your copy of the Rothert Collection catalogue (plus a list of prices realized after the sale) send $2 today.

James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers tell you . . .

How to get the best price for your coins

Considering the sale of your coin collection? James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers offer you the finest auction service in the rare coin field today. Consider the advantages that a combined public and mail bid auction by the American Auction Association offers you:

THE BEST POSSIBLE PRICE for your coins will be yours with an American Auction Association sale. Public attendance plus spirited mail bidding from our mailing list of the most active buyers in numismatics will combine to produce the best possible price for your coins—the best results available in the auction market today.

"What Others Say"

When we sold the Armand Champa Collection at public sale, Mr. Champa was so pleased with the results that he did something unprecedented in the annals of numismatic auctions: completely unsolicited by us he placed large advertisements in The Numismatist and other leading publications to thank us for our service:

"Thank you Dave Bowers and Jim Ruddy for the excellent handling of my coins through your American Auction Association. I was very well pleased with your wonderful descriptions of my coins, especially the patterns. The prices realized for my coins nearly doubled the offers I received from other dealers."

Recently another consignor, Dr. Bernard Bressler, of the Duke University Medical Center (Durham, North Carolina), wrote to say:

"I am most appreciative of your sending me the check and the results from your last auction. I am more than satisfied with the proceeds. I want to congratulate you on the beautiful catalogue and the beautiful results."

And, many similar unsolicited comments are in our files.

EXPERT CATALOGUING by James F. Ruddy, Q. David Bowers, and the other professional numismatists on the staff of Bowers and Ruddy Galleries, Inc. You get the experience of our having handled many millions of dollars worth of choice United States and world coins—including many of the finest collections sold in America and Europe in recent decades.

A BEAUTIFUL CATALOGUE will highlight your collection. Important pieces will be illustrated with detailed photographs. The illustrations, layout, typography, and descriptions of the coins will make the catalogue featuring your collection a standard reference for years to come. (Or, if you prefer—as many sellers do—we'll keep your identity strictly confidential.) Your collection will be offered to its best advantage.

CASH ADVANCES AVAILABLE. Generous cash advances toward the amount realized are available. In that way you can have immediate cash right now.

PLUS THESE OTHER ADVANTAGES: We offer competitive commission rates. Insured protection for your collection in secure bank vaults. Complete research facilities for die varieties, rarity ratings, etc. — to assure you of a better price for your coins. Unquestioned financial reputation. Early sale dates now available.

OUR REFERENCES: Over past decades countless American Numismatic Association members have made the right decision and have let James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers sell their coins. The Collier Collection, the Fairfield Collection, the Fuller Collection, the Gilroy Collection, the Westwood Collection, the Monroe Collection, the Wilmette Collection, the Armand Champa Collection, the Robert Marks Collection—and the list is virtually endless—have all been handled by us to the complete satisfaction of their owners.

We are Life Members of the Numismatic Association and are members of the International Association of Professional Numismatists, the Professional Numismatists Guild (James F. Ruddy is the recipient of the PNG Distinguished Service Award), and other leading organizations.

Considering the sale of your choice coins or collection? Write or telephone James F. Ruddy or Q. David Bowers today. We will discuss our complete arrangements with you and will answer any questions you may have. If you want the very best price for your choice coins, do as other ANA members have done over the years: have James F. Ruddy and Q. David Bowers sell your coins. Let us include YOUR COINS in the next American Auction Association public sale, an event which we are planning right now.

R.S. Yeoman's Handbook of U.S. Coins

Premium values skyrocket in 31st edition!

With the most dramatic coin value increases in its 31-year history, the new 1974 Blue Book becomes more valuable than ever to you, the coin collector. It contains the latest, up-to-the-minute price information on all United States coins since 1793.

Companion volume to the world's best-selling Red Book, R.S. Yeoman's 31st edition of HANDBOOK OF UNITED STATES COINS lists premium values in several condition columns. It keeps you posted on prices dealers are paying right now for U.S. coins you have to sell. And it also provides helpful hints on collecting, grading and preserving U.S. coins.

Once more author R.S. Yeoman has gathered from his panel of contributing authorities the latest price data that would be almost impossible for the individual collector to obtain. Keep current with skyrocketing prices with the 1974 Blue Book at your elbow. See your dealer today.

The First Annual Mount Everest Mint Christmas Bars.

TAKING TURNS By Sheri Joseph Winter.

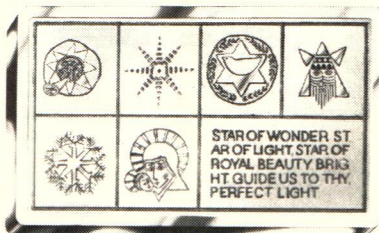

An original situation, portrayed in a traditional style. The subject—a very grown up little girl—is a gratifying reality to sculptor Winter, the father of two daughters. A gift for anyone who enjoys children.

ONE WORLD, ONE WISH

By Victor Lasuchin.

A number of art critics could identify this work as a Lasuchin, without seeing the signature on the back. The man who "works wonders with calligraphy" has designed and sculptured something different, yet within the "school" of Lasuchin graphics. An impressive gift for people with a lot of style.

STAR OF WONDER By Marge Viguers.

A childlike wistfulness and originality make this work delightful. It takes a moment to relate the words to the design in each square. And then you find yourself singing the popular carol portrayed. A gift of imagination, and sentiment.

NATIVITY By Calvin Massey.

Fine art in its fullest sense. A mood of royalty in a humble setting. This is portraitist Massey's expression of exaltation for the miracle in the manger. A gift of inspiration.

BUILDING TOGETHER By Pierre Lefebvre.

These children may think the goal is to make something, then say "Look what we've done." But their real reward is fun and companionship while doing it. Sculptor Lefebvre reflects his own buoyant personality in this work. A gift of good fellowship.

Actual Size

Fine art in fine silver. New works by five gifted American artists. Struck in .999 fine silver. (contains 8% more silver per ounce than sterling.)  Only one edition of these bars will ever be minted.

 YOU HAVE UNTIL NOVEMBER 10, 1973 TO SPREAD THE WARMTH.

Each of these pure silver bars measures approximately 2" by 1-1/8" — an unusually large display area for medallic art — and weighs a full Troy ounce. The title and the artist's signature will appear on the back of each bar, along with the issue date (1973), The Mount Everest Mint mintmark and the bar's weight and purity.

To achieve that rich look of cameolike frosted sculpture set against a flawless mirrorlike background, each bar will be struck with Proof-polished dies. And struck again for extra sharpness of detail.

For beauty alone, any one of these works deserves your interest and admiration. Since the bars will be issued in limited edition, their rarity will tend to add to their value over the years.

Each bar will be packaged in a velour-lined presentation case. The bar and its case make a superb gift, or an enjoyable collector's item for yourself. As works of art, their beauty will last forever.

This year, make it a silver Christmas for anyone who deserves an elegant gift. Send us your gift giving list with your order. And we will make your Christmas mail-

GOLD COINS FOR FINANCIAL SURVIVAL

(now in its second printing)

BY W. W. TURNER
Life Member — American
Numismatic Association

In the news media, probably the most widely acclaimed book on gold and money ever written. Here are a few examples:

●Tom Stone in the Waterbury Sunday Republican: With all respect to Dr. David Reuben and Mr. Turner, the book could have been titled, 'Everything you wanted to know about gold.' For it covers the subject quite thoroughly. It is a book for the thinking man.

●Frank C. Smith in the Times of Hammond, Ind.: "The long and exciting story of money from gold nuggets to today's credit currency is presented in the text."

●Morris C. Rothblum in the Courier Post of Camden, N.J.: "A new and timely issue on the subject of fiat money, gold and gold coins. Anyone who is interested in the subjects of gold and money will especially enjoy reading this book."

●David L. Ganz in Numismatic News: "Turner's book makes invaluable reading for anyone who is evenly remotely considering investing in gold coins."

●Carl Zimmer in the Louisville Courier-Journal & Times: "This obvious labor of love is amazingly comprehensive and a pure delight to read."

●Coin World: "Presents the how, why and what-to required for profitable investment in gold coins."

●Charles Surasky in the New Haven Register: "Turner has compiled a fantastic amount of useful information about gold and gold coins. He provides graphs, charts and pictures to assist the reader in selecting a portfolio of common and rare gold coins. His suggestions are sensible and geared to fit any budget size."

●Don Roberts in the Virginia Numismatist: "The lure of gold is as old as recorded history, but the telling of the story never dulls. W. W. Turner's new book not only deals with the aspect of investment, but relates in interesting fashion the history of man's romance with gold from Biblical times to the present."

About The Author

W. W. Turner has traveled and studied money conditions in over 50 countries on all the continents. His experiences in visiting eight of the communist countries, including over 5,000 miles of travel within the Soviet Union, has given him an insight into how changing times and conditions can affect the life and savings of an individual citizen.

This new and timely book on the subjects of gold and gold coins has 240 pages (hard covers) with 69 pages of remarkable pictures.

Enjoy New...More Exciting...

Less Expensive Type Collecting...

What's a Numistamp?
Not a Stamp! Not a Coin!

It's a Delightful Medallic Merger of the Two!

See for Yourself...

Actual Coin

Exactness of Detail

A Numistamp is a metal plaque bearing exact, intricately detailed reproductions, in high relief of the Obverse and Reverse of an actual coin.

United States Numistamps Proclaimed more Beautiful than Actual Coins Portrayed.

A Collector's Dream

Discriminating professional coin collectors have proclaimed Numistamps more beautiful than their prototypes.

Numistamps offer an opportunity to own specimens of every denomination and design of coins issued by the United States Mint from 1793 to date . . . 117 in all . . . at very modest prices.

Designer Expert Numismatist

Morton Reed, widely known for his syndicated column, "Money Clips," and his regular Coin World feature, "Coinology," is developer of the Numistamp concept and designer of the several series.

Issued in Limited Series

Each Numistamp series is limited to 4,000 serially numbered sets. Two new Numistamps will be issued each month.

Material and Size

The base metal of Numistamps is copper. The finishes closely resemble the coins they portray. Plaquettes measure 1-3/8 x 2-1/4 inches.

Start Your Collection Now

Numistamps — an exciting and completely new concept in type collecting — are not only conversation pieces, but offer substantial appreciation in value because of the limited issues.

Send now for complete details on this exciting new concept in collecting. Remember this is a limited edition, so act now. These sets are sold on a first come, first serve basis.

SOCIETY CERTIFIED PROFESSIONAL NUMISMATISTS

FAO Money . . .

By the end of 1973 some 90 FAO-inspired coins will have been released in over 50 countries, all with designs and legends which spell out the greatest challenge of our time: the need to provide FOOD-EDUCATION-EMPLOYMENT FOR ALL. This first-ever international coin issue on a common theme is sponsored by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Rome. The low-value FAO coins serve as tiny but insistent reminders, in daily circulation, of the urgent need to grow more food; the larger commemoratives generate seigniorate funds for agricultural development.

This programme is followed by a growing community of collectors throughout the world who share FAO's ideals and who, through their purchase of FAO money collections, lend their moral and financial support to this longterm programme. FAO Money issues will continue till their goal, a world free from want, is within reach.

FAO Money collections are now on offer in two forms:

FAO Money Albums

These are a complete collection, limited to an edition of 10,000 worldwide, of all FAO-sponsored money. The Albums are released page by page as new coins are issued, and housed in a custom-made binder. Current subscriptions are invited to the second Money Album, at $110.

The catalogue values of these coins, listed in the 5 June 1973 Telequotes of 'Numismatic News Weekly,' was $84.15. A further two or three pages will be issued in 1973-74 to complete the Album, and will be sent automatically on release to collectors who have subscribed to the complete Album. (The number of pages issued will depend on the value of future coin releases.) All subscribers receive complete descriptive and technical details of the coins, and FAO's collector service ensures that all subscribers receive notice of new releases well in advance.

FAO Money Office, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 00100 Rome, Italy

. . . Food for All

A small number of Album 1 with pages 3-6 only are still available, containing 33 earlier coins. These will be supplied strictly on a first-come, first-served basis.

FAO Money Panels

These contain a representative selection of FAO Money, for display in home or office, chosen from the coins of the complete Album edition. Like the Albums, they are limited to an edition of 10,000 worldwide. Currently on offer is Money Panels 1 and 2, which present a collection of 35 coins from Album 1, in leatherette finish with silver-stamped captions. Panel 1 is in scarlet and contains 19 low and medium value current coins; Panel 2, finished in midnight blue, contains 16 high-value commemoratives. The coins are mostly uncirculated (the others are prooflike or proof), and are protected by transparent sliding windows. The catalogue value of the coins, as listed in the 5 June 1973 FAO Telequotes, was $78.30.

Panels 1 and 2 are sold as a set at $68 per set, in English, French, German or Italian texts, as desired. A third Panel, presenting selected coins from the first pages of Album 2, is in preparation.

How to order your FAO collection

Orders for FAO Money Albums and Money Panels can be sent to the FAO Washington Office for swift forwarding to Rome. Dispatch will be made from Rome, via Washington, within ten days of receipt of order. Payment may be made by US dollar cheque or money order payable to 'FAO Money Office,' the listed US $ prices, inclusive of handling, packing and dispatch by insured mail, are valid to 31 December, 1973. After that date FAO reserves the right to alter prices without notice. A limited installment plan is available for collectors who wish to pay for the complete Album.

We are able to offer a unique opportunity for the purchase of the following GENUINE GOLD COINS from treasure ships sunk 250 years (July 31, 1715). These coins were auctioned off by the world-famous auction concern, Sotheby Parke Bernet, in Los Angeles on June 17, 18, 19, 1973.

All coins featured will be accompanied by certificates of authenticity as supplied by the Sotheby Parke Bernet galleries. We will try to include a copy of the original catalog with each sale. The illustrations featured are of the actual coins.

The price range listed after each coin (and we quote from the Parke Bernet catalog) . . . "is intended as a guide . . . The figures are only educated guesses, based upon recent values of the same or similar items."

ANNOUNCING A NATION-WIDE BUYING SERVICE

If you are seriously considering selling your collection, we need to buy it. During the past year, our retail sales have increased by over 70%. What does this mean? For us, it means the pleasure of serving you with our continued quality service, and lowest possible prices. For you, which is even more important, (because without you, we would not be here) it means the intrinsic satisfaction of securing another rare numismatic item.

However, in order to satisfy the ever growing numismatic fraternity, we are embarking upon a nation-wide buying service. You will notice that we have stated service. Why? Because it is this company's policy to treat you in the same fair and upright dealings when buying your coins as we use when selling ours. It is for these reasons that we feel our buying service will be something new and innovative for the entire numismatic fraternity.

Here is what our nation-wide buying service provides:

1. Instant cash (confidential, of course, if you wish).
2. Bank references available (contact Mr. Bill Whitsitt at Texas Bank & Trust, One Main Place, Dallas, Texas).
3. Call us collect at 214-748-4044 if you desire to sell a large collection, or you may ship your collection with invoice to Mike Follett Rare Coins, Plaza Level, One Main Place, Dallas, Texas, 75250. Within 24 to 48 hours, you will receive our generous offer by return mail.
Should you decide not to sell, we will return your coins immediately upon hearing from you. Of course, they will be fully insured and we will pay the postage. (During the past year, 82% of those who have sent us coins in this manner have sold their collection). Through this method you risk absolutely nothing.
4. We can be at your bank, home, or office anywhere in the USA within 24 hours of your call provided your collection warrants.
5. We will buy your entire collection, not just the choice material.
6. You will be selling to a coin retailer, not a middle man; therefore, you are assured for the highest possible price.
7. You will be selling to a company backed with 11 years' experience in buying and grading numismatic material. Your coins will be personally evaluated by Mr. Follett before purchase.
8. You will be negotiating with a company well received and respected throughout the numismatic world.

We are in particular need of the following numismatic items: All choice type material, early Bust dollars and Bust quarters in any grade, all key and semi-key coins with a wholesale value of $10 or more, scarce and rare dates in seated quarters or halves, and all USA and foreign gold both rare and common. Without assuming an air or ostentation, this company has marketed twelve coins with a retail value of over $5,000 each during the past year. As an indication of our high buy prices, we are paying above the 1973 Red Book Catalogue for the following items:

All BU Half Dimes From 1794-1837
All BU Dimes From 1796-1838
All BU Quarters From 1796-1838
All BU Halves From 1794-1840
All BU Bust Dollars 1794-1803
1834-1839 Quarter Eagle Gold BU
1854-S Quarter Eagle Gold BU

In closing, it is the goal and purpose of this numismatic enterprise to serve you — the Numismatist. For the thousands of you that have bought from us, we say thank you. For those of you who have sold to us in the past, we encourage you to continue. For those of you that we have yet to meet, we want to know you. Drop us a line and tell us what you have for sale. We feel that our nation-wide buying service will go further in meeting your individual needs than any other buying program offered today.

Thank you.

WANTED

America's best buyer of Rare coins urgently needs your collection!

As one of America's foremost Rare Coin firms the demands on our inventory are extensive, requiring us to purchase Choice and Rare Coins at an ever expanding rate.

We Want To Buy: Your entire collection is urgently needed no matter what the size, if it contains the items we are looking for. Generally we are interested in any collection which contains Choice and Rare coins and early U. S. coins in AU or better condition.

Individual Coins: We are sincerely interested in individual sets and single coins as well as complete collections. We are particularly interested in worthwhile numismatic items that retail over $10.00 each. Our needs range from Colonials thru Gold including rare dates as well as more common dates in Choice condition.

Selling to US: You will find that selling to our Rare Coin Galleries is easy and safe. Here is all you do — Package your coins carefully and send them to us by insured or registered mail. Immediately upon receipt of your coins David Bland, Jr., will personally examine your coins and send you our generous offer in the form of a confidential insured check. Upon receipt of our offer you can notify us of your decision to sell (nearly every one of the thousands of offers we have made over the past decade has been accepted). If for any reason you decide not to sell, your coins will be returned to you by insured mail at our expense. If your collection is too large to mail please send an itemized inventory to the attention of David Bland, Jr., and we will travel to you if the size of the collection warrants it.

You Will Receive More For Your Coins: Because our needs are so great at this time we will pay more than any other major dealer in the U. S. Why not sell to us as thousands of other satisfied collectors have.

For references you may apply to any numismatic publication or numismatic organization. We are members of: The American Numismatic Association (Mr. Bland is Life Member 677); Professional Numismatists Guild; Texas Numismatic Association; etc.

ROLL SET OF KENNEDY HALVES

- Do you know what a BU roll set of Barber Halves would be worth today — IF you could find one?
- Or how about a BU roll set of Liberty Walking Halves from 1916 to 1947?
- We do know that a short BU roll of Walking Liberty Halves from 1941 to 1947 sells for about $7,500.00
- Or how about the popular Franklin Half dollar series, a BU roll set of these is worth $4,000.00 today.

So we say why not get in on the ground floor now with a roll set of Kennedy Halves from 1964 to 1973. This roll set is sure to follow in the foot steps of its predecessors.

WE ARE OFFERING CHOICE ROLL SETS OF KENNEDY HALVES WITH ALL DATES AND MINTS AS FOLLOWS INCLUDING THE LOW MINTAGE 1970-D AND ALL PROOF ISSUES

1964 Silver	1968-D	1970-S Proofs	1972-D
1964-D Silver	1968-S Proofs	1971	1972-S Proofs
1965	1969-D	1971-D	1973
1966	1969-S Proofs	1971-S Proofs	1973-D
1967	1970-D	1972	1973-S Proofs

For a limited time only, we offer 1 each of the 20 rolls, BU and PROOF for only

$950.00

That price may seem high to most, but remember with a roll set you have 20 individual sets. Also the Kennedy Half series is now 10 years old and due for some big advances upward in price. Check your Red Book, or trends and see what a single complete set lists for.

WE INVITE YOU TO SHARE
IN OUR SUCCESS STORY
BY CONSIGNING YOUR COLLECTION FOR FUTURE AUCTIONS

We have been awarded the Texas Numismatic Association Auction, taking place in Houston, Texas, April 26-28, 1974, and we are in search of a worthwhile United States collection as well as selected world coin specimens.

◆ SOME OF OUR PAST AUCTIONS

- The Jose T. Medina Collection — The famous Chilean author and numismatist whose collection was recorded in 21 numismatic volumes
- Our Tenth Anniversary Auction (1971) — Worldwide coins, medals, tokens, and paper money, including a number of Latin American rarities.
- The King Farouk of Egypt Collection of Banknotes accompanied by a second volume of choice and rare coins, medals, and tokens of the world.
- The largest and most diversified numismatic sale on record was the 5001 Lots of Selected Coins, Medals and Rare Currency of the World including the Robert Gordon collection of European medals related to the Americas, which was at one time owned by Medina but consigned to us by Robert Gordon.

◆ SOME OF THE PRICES WE HAVE OBTAINED: We can guarantee top prices for extremely rare material. Some examples are:

- The three Mexico 3 Real pieces of Carlos and Johanna, which realized $15,6000 in our King Farouk Sale — Part II.
- $1,950 was obtained for a silver medal featuring on the obverse George III and on the reverse a rampant lion. This medal commemorates the determination of England to continue the war with America to the bitter end. Nevertheless, independence came a year later. (Betts#584, Medina #164)
- In our 5001 - lot sale, $3,300 was obtained for a Costa Rica 8 Reales 1831 with assayer "E."

Should you be interested in consigning your collection or a segment of your collection for auction, feel free to write, wire or call us. We are ready and willing to work closely with you. Our commissions are in line with those charged by other auctioneers, and there are no hidden charges. We can assure you that you will not get better or more courteous, fair treatment from anyone else.

Direct all correspondence to our new location (still downtown San Antonio).

CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT!!!! We will advance a percentage of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. Please send inventory first — do not send coins until you hear from us. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement with 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession, they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases, our advance will be almost equal to other offers of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalog mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

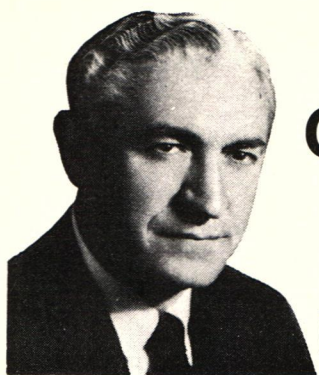

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

APPRAISALS CONSULTATIONS

SOUND ADVICE IS WORTH THE PRICE

You CAN buy experience! Ours. Now, in our 45th year as professional numismatists, we are helping more and more collectors and dealers, too, with their numismatic problems.

Be it buying or selling, estate planning or taxes, or just plain sound advice, the problems are coming to the "doctor," the professional's professional.

It takes a long time to chalk up 45 years of experience. We have it and you can reap the benefits. It may well be your best numismatic investment.

The extraordinary collection announced in August has been sold by private treaty. Worthy of note . . . The extremely High Relief Double Eagle fetched a new world's record of $125,000.00

DEALER.

Dear Numismatists,

Although we deal in choice and rare specimens of all denominations of United States coinage, we have been especially fortunate as far as the number of top-notch large cents we have been able to offer the numismatic fraternity in recent months. Among many other large cents, we have recently handled choice uncirculated specimens of a 1795 Lettered Edge Cent, and an 1811 Cent, as well as the Downing specimen of the famed "reeded edge" cent (S-79), and a newly reported Jefferson Head (S-80) in VF-20. In fact, we have received several very nice letters from large cent collectors encouraging us to continue offering such high quality material. This month we are proud to give readers of The Numismatist "First Crack" at a recently acquired selection of outstanding cents — these are not being listed in any other publication! We invite your want lists in large cents and all series of United States coins. The Numismatic Gallery is also very much interested in purchasing collections of choice numismatic material in the $500 — $500,000 range. We offer a full 30 day return privilege of all coins.

LARGE CENTS

- 1793 S-2 Obverse VF20, Reverse VF30. Immaculate surfaces with light and medium brown, giving a "wood grain" effect. As desirable a chain cent as could be hoped for in the VF range . . $2350
- 1793 Wreath Chocolatebrown. VF30 in grade with smooth surfaces $1500
- 1796 S-85 Sheldon says, "R-6 . . . almost prohibitively scarce above Fine." This piece is an exquisite tan XF-40, marred only by a small rim nick $700
- 1800 S-209 AU-50 medium brown — one of the top three specimens known. Listed by Sheldon as Rarity 5. No fully mint state example of this variety is known $800
- 1806 S-270 A date which is relatively common in low grade, but extremely hard to locate in attractive condition. This beautiful tan specimen is a perfect XF-40 coin $350
- 1817 N-16 The famous 15 star variety. A very attractive MS-60 plus specimen, rather well-struck for this always weakly-struck variety $1200
- 1826 Mint State 60 plus, lovely glossey tan in color $400
- 1838 Chocolate brown, mint state 60 plus $175
- 1847 Choice glittering proof! The best proof of this date we have been able to handle $2500
- 1848 Mint State 60 plus. This date is quite underrated in mint state, as are many of the dates in the 1840's $150
- 1849 N-28. Unlisted in Newcombe. The only example we have ever handled. Obverse of N-27 (which is the Obverse of N-9) coupled with the reverse of N-21. Glossey AU-55 $150
- 1851 Mint State 65, well struck $150

CHIT-CHAT from

BEN AND KURT

Many of you who during the years have come to Chicago from time to time, will recognize the faces of Ben and Kurt. We began business in 1933 during that great Chicago World's Fair.

We have done business with some of you for many many years. We have joshed with you, kidded you, purchased some of your duplicates, and even sold you some goodies. Now you wish you had bought more, when we offered it to you.

For a while we had an 1885 Trade Dollar, and an 1827 Quarter that none of you wanted to buy. We finally sold it to Charlie Green whom some of you remember.

Well, we left Chicago, and have moved down to Pompano Beach Florida. We are still doing the same thing — buying and selling, only on a more leisurely pace.

A few of you have visited our shop, which is tastefully fitted out in white French Provincial styling. We bought a few of the duplicates you had in your pocket. In fact, one friend sold us enough to pay for his entire vacation down here. Vacationing in south Florida in Winter, summer, spring or fall is getting to be "the thing."

If per chance, you should have in mind to sell some of your good duplicates, so that you can buy that new Cadillac and not have to take the money out of savings — well, Ben and Kurt are still buying.

Should it be that you have given thought to selling your entire collection outright for cash, we also are interested. Yours might be so substantial that we do not have enough money, but then, maybe we could get some from the U.S. Government or the First National Bank. We believe it would do you well to sell your holdings to some "old timers" who know good things, appreciate good things, and are willing to pay for good things.

Ben has been an ANA member for over 35 years, and Kurt for 25. P.N.G. member #8, plus a host of memberships in many leading organizations.

We are doing business under the name of Pompano Collector's Corner, and invite you to visit us. Maybe you cannot do that at this time, but you can drop a letter. Whether you wish to buy something, or sell something, or just "chit-chat" it would be nice to hear from you. You know that we will treat you right.

FRIENDS, ROMANS, COLLECTORS SELL ME YOUR COINS!

In conjunction with the expansion of our retail sales division, we are instituting a separate subsidiary which will be wholly devoted to making purchases for our various divisions.

Due to the enormous need generated by our full volume picture, we are placed in the position of having to buy at a constantly escalating rate. We pay so much more because we sell so much more! We can use a wide and varied assortment of numismatic items that most other dealers just don't have the facilities to handle. We want more than just a few choice items in your collection, we want and need everything, whether it is AG or PROOF, whether OBSOLETE or MODERN. If it's collectable, we want it! Complete collections any series, paper money and foreign coinage WANTED. Obviously it is impossible for us to list what we want, because we want almost everything and are willing to pay for it.

To those of you whose holdings are considerable, the above as well as the following should be of prime importance. As a matter of policy we maintain a cash position far and above any of our immediate or long range needs. Therefore we are in a position to handle your collection or accumulation immediately. It's always nice to know when you deal with the Old Roman Inc., you are dealing with principles only.

We now invite you to ship your coins directly to us for IMMEDIATE appraisal and disposition in the form of an airmail check to you which you may either accept or decline. Either ship your coins or write for our most generous offer.

If for any reason we can't come to terms, as always we pay return postage. If it's expeditious or advantageous to either of us, we will of course travel to negotiate the purchase and transfer of your holdings.

All matters are held in the strictest confidence.

NUMIS INTERNATIONAL

WANTS TO BUY FROM YOU!

We need to purchase CHOICE WORLD COINS for our international clientele.

WHAT WE WANT TO BUY:

1. Rare crowns and minors of South & Central America, especially Panama & Venezuela.
2. Germany & German States Talers, crowns, and rare minors from 1500 to date.
3. Austria talers, crowns, and rare minors from 1500 to date. We especially need to purchase all 25 & 50 Schilling in choice Proof and we can pay top dollar. Please write.
4. Early French crowns and scarce minors from 1400 to date.
5. Italian and Italian States crowns, and scarce minors.
6. All better Oriental crowns and minors. Paying very competitive prices. Please write.
7. All better crowns and minors from Portugal, Azores, Madeira, Angola, Mozambique, Guinea. Paying over Craig, Yeoman, and Krause. Please write.
8. Especially needed - Talers, crowns, and scarce minors from Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Luxembourg, and Switzerland.

If your entire collection is for sale, we purchase it intact. Generally speaking, we want to buy only choice collections or single coins with a retail value of over $10 each.

If your holdings warrant, we will travel to inspect and purchase your collection. We always pay competitive prices for choice material. All we want is a chance to make an offer. Why deny yourself maximum return on your investment? When shipping, please wrap securely. Send all packages insured or registered airmail. Payment within 24 hours after receipt. Thank you.

We at Cosmic Coin are fully aware of the time and effort required to assemble an important coin collection. If you would like to receive adequate compensation for your foresight in assembling a quality coin collection, we are the people you should contact.

All of the staff at Cosmic Coin are expert numismatists. We started as collectors and are now full-time dealers. The coin business to us is not work, it is a pleasure. And it is an even greater pleasure to help fellow numismatists assemble their collection.

Should you be considering the sale of your collection, please feel free to call at any time, we would like to hear from you. All transactions are treated with the utmost confidence. If your collection warrants, we can be in your city within twenty-four (24) hours to adequately evaluate your collection and make a prompt satisfactory cash settlement.

Our customers' satisfaction is of primary importance. We offer the following services to collectors:

Instant cash payment for your collection.

Exceptional auction service, including a beautifully illustrated colored catalogue to insure the most favorable photographs and descriptions of your coins.

Meticulous attention paid to every specimen in your collection, not just the rarities.

We will buy one rare coin or the most extensive collections.

We are in the process of building some of the finest coin collections in the country and always are in need of choice material to pass from one fine collection to another.

Coins to us are not merely little round pieces of metal, bought at one price and sold at another. We know and appreciate the beauty, rarity and value of rare coins.

You can expect and will receive the full value for your collection.

We offer our appraisal services for estates, private collections, insurance companies and banks.

Our qualifications, capabilities and market sensitivity enable us to insure you the ultimate return for your numismatic properties. We consider it a privilege and a pleasure to aid in the dispersing or assembling of your collection.

"The source of Wisdom in coin selecting"

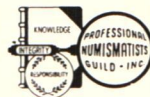

Most people do not order coins from THE NUMISMATIST as they would other magazines, because through experience they have found that over 2 months pass from the time the dealer submits the ad until its appearance in print. Well, this ad for South Africa crowns is for readers of THE NUMISMATIST only; we are holding our S.A. coins and are not offering them elsewhere, so you can be fairly sure that what you order will be in stock, AND at a price which it is advertised, even though the market is strong on these crowns, and they are moving up in price, due to the number of people who have started collections of these crowns by date. At these prices, this in one of the best investments around right now, and the series only goes back to 1947. Frankly, the reason the price will stay in effect is to place more readers of THE NUMISMATIST on our catalogue mailing list as a special inducement to order from this ad. With any order you may purchase an India gold Fannam for only $3.95 (below wholesale) for as long as our supply lasts.

Remember, there may come a time when small gold pieces may be a very important item to have and use.

THINKING OF SELLING?

Texas' leading coin company, Colonial Coins, is in great need of rare coins. Homes & estates in this area are less than 100 yrs. old, so finding old coins is virtually impossible. We are constantly forced to travel & advertise into the world market to supply our collectors.

We are also expanding our offices to San Antonio, & we will have many new collectors to satisfy.

All our buyers are anxious for good coins (we just mailed a list to 100,000 collectors). We will pay near retail on immediate cash settlement.

— AREAS OF GREATEST INTEREST —

- (A) USA Gold - Rare date St. Gaudens, Liberty, & Territorial Gold, single pcs. or whole collections. We are interested in silver & copper coins, especially pre-1900 collections, & single coins. We meet, & surpass, all legitimate buy prices.
- (B) Foreign Coins - As the leading dealer in Latin American, & especially Mexican coins, we have many good customers who buy from us exclusively. Many of them do not read or speak English & rely on us for all their coins. We buy from dealers & collectors, both at retail prices. We also have serious customers for crowns, especially high grade, high value items.

— NEEDED IMMEDIATELY —

- (1) Nice collection of USA gold coins.
- (2) High grade USA type collection.
- (3) Large USA coin collection, including silver $.
- (4) Two fine Mexican collections (gold & silver) 1556 to date.
- (5) One crown collection, including Latin or European coinage.
- (6) Any treasure findings from A to Z.

DOCTOR'S INVESTMENT GROUP

Dr. George Vogt, Pres. of Colonial Coins, & advisor to the Doctor's Investment Group, is still making large investments in USA, and foreign gold in large lots. The group is also interested in rolls and bags of silver $, unusual rolls of silver & gold coins, i.e. Unc. "V" nickels by the roll, half dimes by the roll, & proof sets prior to 1940. Please write us about your holdings & please state prices desired, for the Group's decision.

HOW DO YOU SELL TO US?

- A. Pack up your coins & send them to us via registered mail. Our top offer, in the form of a check, will be returned to you by return mail. We guarantee satisfaction. This is a fast cash settlement for you. We are bonded; Dun & Bradstreet rated; & secured Via Memorial Bank. After obtaining our permission, you may send your coins to our bank.
- B. We also invite you to make an appointment with us for a cash settlement on the spot.
- C. We will travel to you if your collection is too large to ship, or if you live in a foreign country. We travel to Europe & South America, & the Orient. Advise us the size & major rarities of your collection.
- D. Large finder's fee to persons who locate & help us to purchase collections.

We have funds from $1,000 to $1,000,000.

"dealers in rare coins and precious metals"

presents

"A UNIQUE INVESTMENT PLAN FOR YOU"

Dear Investor/Collector,

The growing rare coin market allows great potential for economic growth. Properly invested, your money can show gains of 25% and higher. (This figure is conservative if we compare price increases in the market over the last decade.) However, investing in coins for high economic gain is not for amateurs. The coin market is something that takes years to learn. Knowing what to buy, when to buy, and how much to pay is something that experts can do best.

The amateur investor and collector is often taken advantage of by dealers who are out to make a fast buck. The amateur, wishing to participate in the market, is sold overpriced and overgraded material from unscrupulous dealers who will never buy their material back. This practice has been a great detriment to numismatics.

This story is an old and sad tale, but it need not happen to you. We at mgm rare coin galleries are a group of sincere collectors and investors who, disgusted with the methods of many coin dealers, have developed a unique investment plan.

We GUARANTEE, by signed legal contract with you, that if you buy choice recommended numismatic material from us we will buy back that material after one-hundred-twenty days for at least the purchase price. YOU CANNOT LOSE MONEY. (Minimum investment $500.00)

This plan allows you to participate in the active growing coin market at no risk. If the material we recommend has gone down in value, we lose money, not you. If it increases in value, you make money. You are not required to sell to us if a higher price is offered elsewhere. The longer you hold the material the more money you make.

We at mgm have over fifty years of combined experience. We are professional collectors and investors. We will choose material that will make you money. Our business is coins, seven days a week.

All coins will be photographed for legal identification.

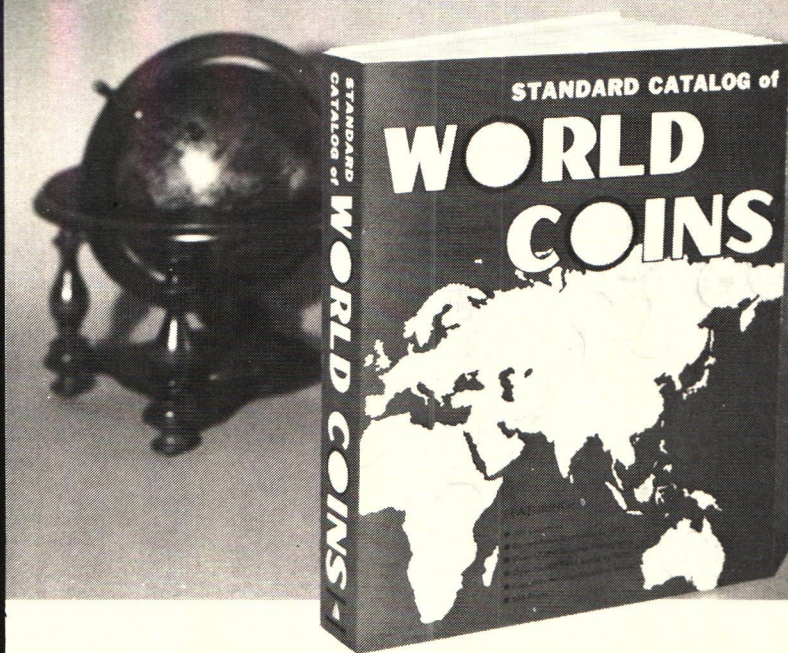

We are sure that in a short period of time dealers all across the country will be starting similar programs. But trust us when we say we are collectors and investors trying to help other collectors and investors. We will do anything in our power to give you the fairest and most honest deal we can. Send your letter and check today or call us collect to reserve an investment package for you. The response on this will be so great that we don't think that we will be able to repeat this offer soon. Let us hear from you today. You cannot lose!!!

Sincerely

GOLD

Coin Investments, Inc., is in the business of buying and selling all gold coins of the world. Thousands of gold coins pass through our hands from estates, collectors, banks, and etc. weekly, therefore, we have been able to assemble some of the best gold collections in the world for our customers.

If you need any gold from any country, please send us a description of the coins and grade desired and if we cannot locate what you need immediately, we will keep your requests on file and continue looking for the coins as we have done while building the major collections. We also maintain one of the world's largest stocks of bullion coins for Investment. We give daily buy and sell prices on all bullion coins. So please do not hesitate to call for a price. We also are very much in the market to buy any gold you may have for sale, be it common or rare.

"AMERICAN (Military) INSIGNIA" 1906 by B. Belden-4 plates — New reprint, plus comprehensive list of prices I will pay (spot cash) for most of the items he lists and illustrates plus many others (almost 100 items wanted). Average prices $20.00 to $1,000.00. $2.00 postpaid.

Political Americana - A fascinating, fast-growing, and rewarding hobby. 25 different original presidential election buttons plus 10 pg. illus. catalog listing hundreds other older campaign buttons and tokens, etc. I have for sale

..... $5.00 postpaid
 Illustrated Price List alone..... 50c (refundable)

"COLLECTING PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN MEDALS" 1888 by G. Kobbe — New reprint with 50 woodcut illustrations $1.25 postpaid (First Class as is every other item listed on this page).

Always wanted: (Spot cash — no waiting months from auctions). Not afraid of quantity. Just tell me how many and how much or send sample; early presidential election tokens, medals, pre-FDR election buttons. For instance, will pay $15.00 each for any Hoover picture celluloid election button — at least $1.00 each for any Truman name button.

Also wanted: ribbons, badges, ballots (electoral tickets) — especially those with woodcuts — early election posters, broadsides, prints, paintings, (not only of winners but losers like Henry Clay and Douglas), official inaugural medals (not U.S. Mint). Also need glass rectangular brooches with scenes of log cabins, W.H. Harrison, Van Buren, Dog on Safe, or Temple of Liberty — these have pin backs. "Beware, fakes abound in all these items. Indian Peace Medals, Geo. III or Presidential originals only — in solid silver, not silver plated or bronze. Indian steel pipe trade tomahawks, originals only — dug-up ones O.K. No free appraisals. Describe fully; size, cond., scene. Price or send insured-air for cash offer. Also specialize in European, Medieval to 1800 coins in any metal. Ancient Greek coins VF or better or of finest style if in lesser condition. Just price and describe or send insured for cash offer.

SILVER BUY DIRECT & SAVE

For "solid" wealth many investors are turning to the "Letcher Eagle." It's ONE TROY OUNCE, PURE SILVER (.999). Each piece is larger than a dollar and certified as to weight and quality. Best of all, this form of silver can be purchased directly from The Letcher Mint at a cost only slightly higher than the New York spot price of silver on the day of purchase. For the first time, individuals as well as dealers can buy this convenient form of Pure Silver at reasonable bulk rates.

Price on a "per Troy Ounce" weight basis in bags, F.O.B. Mint at Lancaster, California:

1000 to 9999 at 75c over N.Y. spot
 10,000 to 50,000 at 45c over N.Y. spot
 over 50,000 at 27c over N.Y. spot

Shipment generally will be made in less than a week's time via Air Freight, Rail Express or armored car service.

If you are a serious collector of ancient and/or medieval coins, it would be advantageous for you to receive my catalogues. While a representative selection of the main coinages of the Greek, Roman and Byzantine worlds is always in stock, exceptional coins are highlighted: coins of great beauty or rarity, (such as the Greek coins of Syracuse and Tarentum, a bronze of Calerius Antonius, superb denarii of Balbinus and of H. Saserna picturing Vercingetorix) have recently been offered to my customers.

Subscription to my bulletins is $2.00, or take advantage of any of the following offerings and the catalogues will be mailed at no extra cost:

- 1) Superb, EF silver drachms of the Parthian King Mithradates II, 123-88 BC $50
- 2) Billon denier of Philip of Taranto, 1304-1314, struck at Lepanto (Crusader Coinage), F-Vf $ 7
- 3) The second edition of my book Byzantine Coin Values along with an unidentified Byzantine bronze $10

SEABY

OF LONDON

Yes! We may be based a few miles away across the water but we're pretty mobile. In fact, our experts travel to America five or six times a year to visit clients and buy collections.

We deal in world coins — ancient, medieval and modern. Do you have coins for sale? Being on Europe's doorstep we have many continental contacts and can pay top prices for choice material. Before disposing of your coins too hastily, why not write to and let us know what you have?

We purchase coins for CASH. We sell coins on COMMISSION. We catalogue collections for AUCTION either in London or New York. We have a team of experts qualified to make the most of your coins. Drop us a line!

Bert Seaby, Peter Seaby, Lawrence Brown, Frank Purvey and others from the Seaby establishment will be travelling around the States this year. You may be on our route or persuade us to make a detour!

Send for a list of our numismatic publications and a copy of our monthly COIN & MEDAL BULLETIN. And if there are coins you are particularly wanting — let us know!

DON'T SELL YOUR COINS

Until you have checked with us. Not only are we paying top prices but we are interested in buying complete collections and not just the key coins from your collection.

Our retail store and mail order business leave us with a constant need for all U.S. Material from Colonials to Silver Dollars. We are also buyers of rolls, Bulk Silver, and Franklin Mint material.

In addition to top prices we also are proud of the fast buying service we have available. We can be at your home or bank within 24 hours if your holdings warrant, or if you would, just mail your coins insured to us for our offer and fast check. We have purchased over 97% of all coins sent to us over the past 10 years.

No collection too large or too small to be of interest to us. All dealings are quick and confidential.

PHILIPPINE COINS

Offer values for the future — and can be purchased at yesterday's prices. We have just acquired a very large inventory which has caused us to reduce prices from 10 to 50 per cent in most types. Many coins are priced below what they were in our 1965-66 lists. Over 50 types available, including those from the Spanish period, the Philippines as a U.S. territory, Philippine commemoratives and minors, and Culion Leper Colony coinage. Hundreds of dates and grades, including BU and proofs.

Write for our new fall price list — free for the asking — or send 80c in stamps and receive the list, plus Philippine coins worth at least $2.00 in catalog value. Wholesale prices upon request.

MAY I? PLEASE?

When I look at all of those full-page advertisements offering rare and expensive coins, I almost feel embarrassed at my little ad., which may be lost and never read!

In spite of these large advertisements, and my small one, I am still one of the larger dealers in my type of material — modern foreign coins. My semi-annual price list is 30 solid pages of listings. The monthly list is from 12 to 16 pages, sometimes including special lists of animals, ships, odd shapes, FAO coins, etc. Also, I list on Page 1 most new foreign coin issues as they arrive.

In addition, to dealers, I offer a semi-annual list of 24 pages or more, and a monthly supplement with new arrivals, all at prices permitting a profit.

So, in spite of this small advertisement, I still feel there is a place for such a dealer, and make no apologies for my stock. Write for the lists and perhaps you may feel that even a "small" dealer can do you some good.
